Thieu Asks Peace Talks With Hanoi

Names Associate Of Ky As Premier In Inaugural Address

SAIGON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu energetically began a four-year tsrm as South Vietnam's elected president today by proposing peace talks with Hanoi, appointing a civilian associate of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky to succeed Ky as premier, and opening the elected House of Representatives with a call for action not words.

Devoting the major part of his inaugural address to the problem of peace for South Vietnam, the 44-year-old president made plain that his offer to talk with the Communists meant no surrender.

Thieu insisted freedom and independence would be defended by his government and the Communist North must learn that aggression will not pay. His strong words made it highly unlikely that Hanoi would find his peace proposals more acceptable than previous offers North Veitnamese President Ho Chi Minh has rejected.

The 50-minute inaugural, with U.S. Vice Prseident Hubert H. Humphrey and representatives of 21 other nations applauding warmly, went off without a hitch despite fears of a Viet Cong attack. Security forces deployed over and around the city were the greatest ever known.

Some 50,000 troops and selected guests were massed for half a mile down broad Le Loi Avenue in front of the inaugural stands. Security was so tight, however, that ordinary citizens had to see the ceremonies on television or listen over the radio.

Thieu's speech—which Humphrey hailed as "a masterpiece—a great speech"—was largely what was expected. He promised a strengthened army, social reforms, a campaign against corruption and called for help for the peasants and a narrowing of the income gap between city and countryside.

The appointment of lawyer Nguyen Van Loc as premier was also expected, and was criticized in advance. Those who hoped to see Thieu broaden his government's political base by the appointment of some respected political figure were disappointed.

Rejected Suitor's Suicide Ends Hours Of Terror

Young Couple Recovering After Cleveland Shooting

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I was in heaven—on my honeymoon, then all hell broke loose with this nut," said Charles Caldwell after 44 hours of terror ended with the shooting of his bride and her rejected suitor's suicide.

Lida Caldwell, 19, was taken at gunpoint from the young couple's apartment a few hours after the wedding Saturday. Robert Batch, 23, a former mental patient she dated until about a month ago, shot and wounded her 18-year-od husband as the couple arrived home from Detroit where they were married.

Batch then took the dark-haired, brown-eyed girl to his third-floor attic apartment in suburban University Heights, holding the bride and police at bay until Monday afternoon.

Batch, quoted by his mother as saying, "There was no reason to go on living," shot Mrs. Caldwell in the chest and turned the gun on himself.

"My darling, My darling," moaned the dying Batch as police stormed into the apartment to find him draped across his young captive.

"Get me out of here," begged Mrs. Caldwell as she was carried to an ambulance.

The bullet pierced her chest and came out her back. After surgery at Doctor's Hospital, she remained in satisfactory condition today.

Batch was pronounced dead at the same hospital from a bullet wound in his heart.

Four miles away in St. Vincent Charity Hospital, her husband, a short order cook, also in satisfactory condition, is recovering from face wounds.

"I hope I can see her soon," Caldwell said from his hospital bed, adding that "this past couple of days has been hell . . . but now I'm in heaven again."

Explosions Shake Windows As Thieu Entertains 2,000

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong lobbed four shells on grounds of the gaily lighted Independence Palace tonight as President Nguyen Van Thieu entertained Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and 2,000 inaugural guests, but hit none of them.

A fifth shell straying from the target, wounded three persons outside. The tube of a 61mm mortar, believed to have been the weapon, was found in a building five blocks from the palace.

The shells landed in quick succession. The explosions shook the windows, but it was all over in a few seconds and the party went on. A dinner party for a smaller group later was carried out as scheduled.

The shelling was carried out despite the biggest security precautions in memory in and around Saigon.

Within minutes after the blasts went off, the sound of counterbattery fire could be heard in the edges of the city as South Vietnamese and U.S. guns blasted suspected Communist positions.

Flares from helicopters lighted the sky over the city and gunship helicopters clattered in low on the lookout for further enemy action.

Associated Press correspondent George McArthur, who was inside the palace at the time of the shelling, reported there was no thought of cancelling the reception or dinner. The guests took the incident in stride.

Last year on South Vietnam's National Day, Nov. 1, the Viet Cong hit the city with mortar and recoilless rifle fire during the parade, killed eight persons and wounded 45.

Another National Day parade is planned Wednesday.

Inside the palace as the explosions were heard were President Thieu and 2,000 guests, including delegates to the inauguration from 22 countries.

The blasts shook the windows of the palace but first reports indicated the building itself was not damaged.

One of the mortar rounds was said to have hit a guard post at the southwest corner of the palace grounds. Several cars were damaged by the blast and one account said an American Army colonel was among those hurt.

Reports from the palace a few minutes after the blasts said all rounds landed several hundred yards from the brightly lighted building.

No one was hurt inside the building.

"I was not alarmed, not at all," Humphrey told newsmen.

President Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky had just left the ballroom to prepare for a state dinner within half an hour on an upper floor of the pa-

At Command Of Ground Station

Russian Sputnik Makes Soft Landing On Earth

MOSCOW (AP)—Cosmos 186, one of two Soviet unmanned Sputniks which docked and separated Monday, made a soft landing on earth today at the command of a ground station, an official announcement said.

The use of a soft landing to end the mission seemed to confirm earlier indications that the docking was a rehearsal for a manned flight and the building in orbit of a huge orbiting space platform.

The announcement said Cosmos 186 was brought to an undisclosed spot on earth at 11:20 a.m. Moscow time (3:20 a.m. EST) after "automatic linkup and other scientific tasks."

The other unmanned Sputnik, Cosmos 188, continued to orbit earth, it added.

Earlier in the day the Soviet Union disclosed it had sent up still another satellite—Cosmos 189. It also continued in orbit.

Soviet scientists disclosed that the unmanned spaceship was sent into space Monday while another Sputnik rocketed up to dock automatically with another unmanned vehicle.

Soviet newspapers hailed the docking as a space first and "Russians ahead again." But Dr. Edward C. Welsh, the White House's principal space adviser, said the United States has long had the capacity for an unmnned docking but did not bother to use it because of Gemini successes with astronauts at the controls.

Cosmos 189 raised to six the number of unmanned Sputniks put into orbit in six days, an unusual flurry of Soviet space activity on the eve of celebrations of the Bolshevik revolution. There has been speculation the Russians would send up a new manned spaceship for the anniversary.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Cosmos 189 was functionning normally, circling the earth every 95.7 minutes with 332 miles the maximum height of its orbit. No specific mission was announced for the craft, but the Soviets said it was "designed to continue space research."

Cosmos 186 and 188, which joined and then separated on command from computers 3½ hours later, apparently continue to circle the earth, but there was no indication if they would carry out further joint maneuvers. The docking Monday was a test for systems used in building stations in space, the Soviet announcement said.

It also seemed like an obvious preparation for what the Soviet space program wants to do next—form a space platform by joining together manned craft in orbit. But the new unmanned testing suggested a cautious attitude before cosmonauts are risked in space again. Spaceman Vladimir M. Komarov's death last April is believed by some observers to have occurred in connection with an attempted linkup.

Georgi Petrov, director of the Space Exploration Institute of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, called the unmanned link-up "of greater importance than the American experiment in manual docking of the space vehicle Gemini on the body of the carrier rocket."

He claimed it was technically more advanced than the American experiments and more economical from the point of view of the weight involved.

3 Killed, Scores Injured By Mississippi Twisters

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — Rescue workers searched a two-mile strip of devastation today for more possible victims of two tornadoes that killed three persons, injured scores of others and caused an estimated $5 million damage.

Police said they feared other victims may be buried in the rubble.

National Guardsmen cordoned off the area after the tornadoes barrelled in off the Gulf of Mexico. The damage estimate was made by Mayor R. B. Meadows.

Twenty-five homes and a church crumpled as swirling winds cut two separate paths inward. Fifty-two persons were treated for injuries.

Hardest hit was a trailer park.

Mobile homes were bounced to pieces and rain-whipped wind scattered furnishings among uprooted pecan trees and overturned cars.

U.S., Market Nations Agree

France Rejects A-Treaty

BRUSSELS (AP) — The United States and all of the Common Market countries except France agreed today on terms of a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons, a spokesman for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization announced.

The five Common Market countries who agreed are West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. They had been objecting to the inspection article in the treaty.

The U.S. permanent representatives to the North Atlantic Council announced the United States would resume negotiations with the Soviet Union in Geneva on the inspection system, taking into account principles proposed by the five members of Euratom—the European Atomic Energy Community.

The inspection aims at preventing peaceful nuclear plants from making or helping make nuclear weapons.

France is also a member of Euratom. But President Charles de Gaulle wants no part of the nuclear treaty and intends to have France produce nuclear weapons without international inspection.

The five Euratom countries want inspection of their nuclear plants done by Euratom. The Soviet Union, however, wants it done by the International Atomic Energy Agency IAEA.

West Germany and Italy particularly contend that inspection by IAEA would hamper their peaceful nuclear development. Moscow has been accusing West Germany of opposing IAEA inspection on order to make nuclear bombs.

Ownership Dispute Seen Over School In Chester

Whether or not the Chester Central School — gutted by fire in March 1966 — is owned by the Hancock County Board of Education which Monday night let a contract to have the building razed, remained a question today after a Chester teacher said the tract had reverted to his ownership.

The board last night granted a $5,146 contract to a Youngstown firm which was low bidder.

Hancock County Prosecutor Floyd Tarr told the board the deed to the property is not a clear reversion to the heirs of the original owners if the property is no longer used for a school.

But William Harper, a teacher at the Chester Junior High School, today said he has the deed to the property and he owns it.

"It does belong to me," Harper declared, "and I have been paying taxes on it."

HARPER said his attorneys now are pursuing action in the Hancock County Circuit Court to have him declared the legal owner, based on the deed's generally warranted as long as it is used for school purposes.

Since the building is no longer fit for anyone's use, Harper is claiming rights to the property.

Employer Payments On Taxes Due Today

The deadline falls at the close of business this afternoon at 4:30 for East Liverpool employers to remit to the city income tax office at City Hall the funds which they have withheld from their employes' wages for the third quarter of 1967.

Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson added, however, that payments postmarked by midnight tonight will be accepted without penalty. He issued an earlier reminder on the deadline a few weeks ago. Compliance to date has been "very good," Wilkinson said.

The payments will cover taxes withheld from employe wages for the three months July through September. The deadline falls a month after the close of the quarter.

A Smash Hit!

There was a boxoffice smash Monday at the American Theater, but it didn't make the management happy.

Somebody hurled a quart beer bottle through a 44-x-46½-inch plate glass window in the ticket seller's booth, causing $47 damage, police said.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, discovered the damage while on routine patrol. He notified James Stiefel, manager.

Ever the showman, Stiefel told the officer: "Maybe someone was angry because the current attraction has been running five weeks."

U.S., South Viet Troops Repel New Red Assault

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese troops beat back another Communist attempt today to seize the town of Loc Ninh and U.S. Special Forces camp 72 miles north of Saigon in what U.S. officers said was an obvious try for a propaganda victory to counter South Vietnam's presidential inauguration.

U.S. spokesmen said the Communists left 110 bodies on the battlefield after their renewed attempt to overrun the headquarters compound of the district town and the Special Forces camp. This raised the Communist toll to 365 dead in the three-day battle with South Vietnamese troops and two battalions of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division.

Striking in four waves, the Communists managed on the third try to penetrate the perimeters of the military installations but were driven out by the defenders and American artillery within 30 minutes, U.S. headquarters said.

Meanwhile, U.S. fighter bombers returned to North Vietnam's Hanoi-Haiphong heart-

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has ordered a tightening up of its procedures for making small purchases– those penny ante items that add up to millions.

The man responsible is Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., who has been blasting the Department of Defense for allegedly sloppy shopping practices when it comes to small purchases.

His prize exhibit was a gear which he said the Pentagon paid $194.30 for and could instead have purchased from one manufacturer's catalog for $3.43.

"We cannot tolerate flagrant prctices such as those demonstrated by Mr. Pike's findings," a spokesman for the Department of Defense said Monday.

WASHINGTON)(AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union is coming to the defense of a newsletter which the Post Office Department claims is inciting Negro servicemen to "insubordination, disloyalty, refusal of duty, murder and mutiny."

The ACLU's legal director, Melvin L. Wulff, said court action on behalf of Robert F. Williams, publisher of "The Crusader," will be begun within several weeks.

Williams, a Negro, fled a kidnaping charge in Monroe, N.C., six years ago and now lives in Red China.

After his newsletter was banned from the U.S. mails in August, the Post Office Department said a recent issue "encourages Negro soldiers in Vietnam to murder their white fellow soldiers and generally urged them to create unrest and tension among the troops."

Wulff asked the department for a copy of the newsletter and was turned down. The department said it is abiding by its own ban and can't send him one through the mail.

vilian facade. It was generally ineffective.

Loc's chief claim to office appeared to be that he was born in the South and had a close personal relationship with Vice President Ky, the air force commander who has been largely running the government for the past two years as premier. When Ky planned to run for president, Loc was to be his running mate. Then Ky was forced to accept the second spot on Thieu's ticket, leaving Leo to be taken care of.

By making Loc premier, Thieu eased political feelings at the top of the ruling pyramid and also gave his regime a geographic balance. Thieu's from central Vietnam, Ky a native of North Vietnam and Loc from the South.

The change in roles between Thieu and Ky was evident today. The usually voluble air man marched dutifully behind Thieu at the ceremonies and said not a word. He did not even take a public oath of office, it being assumed he was automatically vice president when Thieu took the oath.

After the ceremonies Thieu received the visiting delegations and then in early afternoon opened the 137-member House of Representatives elected earlier this month. The 60-member Senate elected in September held its first sessions two weeks ago.

Thieu pledged to seek a dialogue with the elected legislative bodies and called upon them to set to work immediately, citing the need for a new press law and a law governing political parties as priority matters.

"I think it is time not for words but for action," Thieu told the house.

While Thieu was speaking to the house, Humphrey was speaking on the lawn of the new U.S. Embassy building a few blocks away.

The vice president echoed his arrival speech by repeating: "We mean to stick it out in Vietnam until aggression is turned back."

"There are those who cannot understand," Humphrey told his American audience, "that the American commitment to the people of Southeast Asia is no less firm than our commitment to the people of Europe. I understand it. You understand it. Your President understands it. That is why you are here."

lace. The ballroom was still thronged with guests, including all of the foreign delegations.

The U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, clasped his hands behind his back and remarked matter of factly. "I thought they sounded like 75 millimeter recoilless rifle rounds."

"You fellows really know more about it than I do," he told newsmen with a smile.

Westmoreland said that his troops and the South Vietnamese security forces around the city were prepared to respond instantly to any such attack.

Midland Group Advances Plans For Yule Parade

John Reider, chairman, said cash prizes will be awarded winning floats and reported to date that floats have been entered by the Midland Lions Club and Midland Junior Women's Club, with more expected.

Marching bands of Lincoln High, Western Beaver High and South Side High are expected to participate.

The parade will form at 12:30 p.m. and move at 1:30 p.m from the 1st St. playground.

Reider said Santa Claus and Tinkerbelle will ride the fire department's hook and ladder truck. Treats will be distributed at the fire hall following the parade.

Marches Due In Support Of Dr. King

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Demonstrations twice a day are planned for the duration of a five-day jail sentence for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and three other Negro ministers, the Rev. T.Y. Rogers says.

Rogers, a civil rights leader, said Monday night at least two marches per day will be held in support of King, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy of Atlanta, the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker of New York and the Rev. A.D. King of Louisville, Ky., who are serving a jail sentence on contempt charges.

The four ministers were arrested by Jefferson County sheriff's deputies Monday afternoon when their plane landed in Birmingham.

The marches, Rogers said, have a two-fold purpose. He said they are sympathy marches—"We march for them in 1967, they marched for us in 1963"—as well as a protest against jailing of the civil rights leaders.

Rogers said others who broke the injunction prohibiting a parade on Good Friday in 1963 still remain free.

"There is a possibility that some of those involved in the 1963 demonstration will request to be jailed if they are also guilty as the others," Rogers said.

About 200 Negroes marched from a Birmingham church Monday night to the courthouse and then dispersed without an incident.

Man Waives Hearing On Car Theft Charge

John Henry Kornegay of Smithfield, N.C., alias Gene Jackson, waived a preliminary hearing Monday at 5 p. m. when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Thomas Moore at Youngstown on a federal auto theft charge following his arrest Friday by East Liverpool police and an FBI agent.

Kornegay was remanded to the Mahoning County Jail at Youngstown in default of a $2,000 bond set for his appearance before the Federal Grand Jury at Cleveland. He is scheduled for transfer from Youngstown to Cleveland by a U.S. marshal.

Kornegay was taken into custody in connection with theft of a 1966 model car owned by Charles E. Curry of McIntosh Rd., Wellsville which was taken from Walnut St. Wednesday. He is charged with violation of a federal statute covering transportation of a stolen motor vehicle across a state line.

Transportation and water power are the two chief purposes of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Shooting

well, went there Sunday morning.

The officers found Mrs. Caldwell in the kitchen. Standing nearby with a pistol was Batch. He ordered the detectives to leave, saying he would kill her and himself if they didn't.

In the next 27 hours he let police and others enter the apartment at various times. But he wielded his pistol constantly, usually keeping it pointed at the girl's head.

On Monday Batch's mother, Martha Smith, 50, talked to her son from outside the apartment door just before he made his final decision, pleading with him to release Mrs. Caldwell and give himself up. She had flown here from her home in Johnstown, Pa., on an airplane chartered by the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The distraught Batch ignored his mother's pleas as well as those from police and Roman Catholic priests who gathered earlier at the scene. Often he refused to even talk.

Police turned off the water, electricity and heat in Batch's apartment, hoping to force him out, and tried to get him to drink drugged coffee.

"Go away and leave us alone," the frightened bride called out to police as the tenseness grew.

Police spotlights were set up outside. Then in Monday's predawn darkness, three shots rang out—one knocking out a searchlight.

Later, using his captive as a shield, Batch fired five more shots. Police never returned the fire and no one was hit.

Then the end came.

"I don't know why, I don't know why," Mrs. Smith said, about her son's abduction of the girl.

Mrs. Smith recalled that her son tried to kill himself with a knife last year in Alliance, Ohio, when a girl friend refused to marry him.

Batch was her son by a previous marriage.

Batch, according to his mother, never mentioned Lida, though they had dated for several months until recently.

"The last time I saw him, in July, he was moody but he never mentioned her," Mrs. Smith said.

Sentencing Scheduled In Murder Conviction

CINCINNATI (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Otis R. Hess is scheduled to pass sentence Thursday on William G. Baker, 25, Cincinnati, who has been convicted of second-degree murder.

Baker was convicted Monday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court in the April 13 slaying of James W. Haynes.

Tornadoes

Jones, 31, of Handsboro, Miss., was discovered in a demolished house not far away. Police tentatively identified the third woman as Patricia Brown, 25.

"I don't think we found all the bodies yet, said Gulfport Police Chief H.L. Hobbs. "There were trailers down there and we're just finding the wheels and the frames—they're just gone."

The twisters struck this coastal area without warning a half-hour apart between 7 a.m. and 8 a.m. The first hit at the harbor in Gulfport flipping 20 tractor trailer trucks parked bumper to bumper awaiting a load of bananas. Three drivers were hurt. An offshore dredge and a cat food plant also were heavily damaged.

The twisters were spawned by a cool front that moved eastward and spread severe storms from Louisiana to Florida.

One or more tornadoes ripped into Pensacola, Fla.—injuring 40 persons. The winds tore off part of the roof of an elementary school where 150 parents and children were holding a Halloween party and broke several windows but no one inside was hurt.

Sheriff Bill Davis of Escambia County said a "lot of houses and business places were blown away."

The storm drove heavy rains into Alabama. Some seven inches fell in Mobile in less than 24 hours. The Weather Bureau said either a tornado or a waterspout ripped the side off a store smashed 14 windows. No injuries were reported.

Several beach houses and buildings along the Alabama coast were badly damaged.

The most remote inhabited island in the world is the island of Tristan da Cunha, in the south Atlantic. The nearest inhabited land to it is the island of St. Helena, 1,320 miles northeast of it, and the nearest continent to it is Africa, 1,700 miles distant.

When Ky planned to run for president, Loc was to be his running mate. Then Ky was forced to accept the second spot on Thieu's ticket, leaving Leo to be taken care of.

By making Loc premier, Thieu eased political feelings at the top of the ruling pyramid and also gave his regime a geographic balance. Thieu's from central Vietnam, Ky a native of North Vietnam and Loc from the South.

The change in roles between Thieu and Ky was evident today. The usually voluble air man marched dutifully behind Thieu at the ceremonies and said not a word. He did not even take a public oath of office, it being assumed he was automatically vice president when Thieu took the oath.

After the ceremonies Thieu received the visiting delegations and then in early afternoon opened the 137-member House of Representatives elected earlier this month. The 60-member Senate elected in September held its first sessions two weeks ago.

Thieu pledged to seek a dialogue with the elected legislative bodies and called upon them to set to work immediately, citing the need for a new press law and a law governing political parties as priority matters.

"I think it is time not for words but for action," Thieu told the house.

While Thieu was speaking to the house, Humphrey was speaking on the lawn of the new U.S. Embassy building a few blocks away.

The vice president echoed his arrival speech by repeating: "We mean to stick it out in Vietnam until aggression is turned back."

"There are those who cannot understand," Humphrey told his American audience, "that the American commitment to the people of Southeast Asia is no less firm than our commitment to the people of Europe. I understand it. You understand it. Your President understands it. That is why you are here."

lace. The ballroom was still thronged with guests, including all of the foreign delegations.

The U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, clasped his hands behind his back and remarked matter of factly. "I thought they sounded like 75 millimeter recoilless rifle rounds."

"You fellows really know more about it than I do," he told newsmen with a smile.

Westmoreland said that his troops and the South Vietnamese security forces around the city were prepared to respond instantly to any such attack.

Midland Group Advances Plans For Yule Parade

John Reider, chairman, said cash prizes will be awarded winning floats and reported to date that floats have been entered by the Midland Lions Club and Midland Junior Women's Club, with more expected.

Marching bands of Lincoln High, Western Beaver High and South Side High are expected to participate.

The parade will form at 12:30 p.m. and move at 1:30 p.m from the 1st St. playground.

Reider said Santa Claus and Tinkerbelle will ride the fire department's hook and ladder truck. Treats will be distributed at the fire hall following the parade.

Marches Due In Support Of Dr. King

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Demonstrations twice a day are planned for the duration of a five-day jail sentence for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and three other Negro ministers, the Rev. T.Y. Rogers says.

Rogers, a civil rights leader, said Monday night at least two marches per day will be held in support of King, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy of Atlanta, the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker of New York and the Rev. A.D. King of Louisville, Ky., who are serving a jail sentence on contempt charges.

The four ministers were arrested by Jefferson County sheriff's deputies Monday afternoon when their plane landed in Birmingham.

The marches, Rogers said, have a two-fold purpose. He said they are sympathy marches—"We march for them in 1967, they marched for us in 1963"—as well as a protest against jailing of the civil rights leaders.

Rogers said others who broke the injunction prohibiting a parade on Good Friday in 1963 still remain free.

"There is a possibility that some of those involved in the 1963 demonstration will request to be jailed if they are also guilty as the others," Rogers said.

About 200 Negroes marched from a Birmingham church Monday night to the courthouse and then dispersed without an incident.

Man Waives Hearing On Car Theft Charge

John Henry Kornegay of Smithfield, N.C., alias Gene Jackson, waived a preliminary hearing Monday at 5 p. m. when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Thomas Moore at Youngstown on a federal auto theft charge following his arrest Friday by East Liverpool police and an FBI agent.

Kornegay was remanded to the Mahoning County Jail at Youngstown in default of a $2,000 bond set for his appearance before the Federal Grand Jury at Cleveland. He is scheduled for transfer from Youngstown to Cleveland by a U.S. marshal.

Kornegay was taken into custody in connection with theft of a 1966 model car owned by Charles E. Curry of McIntosh Rd., Wellsville which was taken from Walnut St. Wednesday. He is charged with violation of a federal statute covering transportation of a stolen motor vehicle across a state line.

Transportation and water power are the two chief purposes of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Shooting

well, went there Sunday morning.

The officers found Mrs. Caldwell in the kitchen. Standing nearby with a pistol was Batch. He ordered the detectives to leave, saying he would kill her and himself if they didn't.

In the next 27 hours he let police and others enter the apartment at various times. But he wielded his pistol constantly, usually keeping it pointed at the girl's head.

On Monday Batch's mother, Martha Smith, 50, talked to her son from outside the apartment door just before he made his final decision, pleading with him to release Mrs. Caldwell and give himself up. She had flown here from her home in Johnstown, Pa., on an airplane chartered by the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The distraught Batch ignored his mother's pleas as well as those from police and Roman Catholic priests who gathered earlier at the scene. Often he refused to even talk.

Police turned off the water, electricity and heat in Batch's apartment, hoping to force him out, and tried to get him to drink drugged coffee.

"Go away and leave us alone," the frightened bride called out to police as the tenseness grew.

Police spotlights were set up outside. Then in Monday's predawn darkness, three shots rang out—one knocking out a searchlight.

Later, using his captive as a shield, Batch fired five more shots. Police never returned the fire and no one was hit.

Then the end came.

"I don't know why, I don't know why," Mrs. Smith said, about her son's abduction of the girl.

Mrs. Smith recalled that her son tried to kill himself with a knife last year in Alliance, Ohio, when a girl friend refused to marry him.

Batch was her son by a previous marriage.

Batch, according to his mother, never mentioned Lida, though they had dated for several months until recently.

"The last time I saw him, in July, he was moody but he never mentioned her," Mrs. Smith said.

Jones, 81, of Handsboro, Miss., was discovered in a demolished house not far away. Police tentatively identified the third woman as Patricia Brown, 25.

"I don't think we found all the bodies yet, said Gulfport Police Chief H.L. Hobbs. "There were trailers down there and we're just finding the wheels and the frames—they're just gone."

The twisters struck this coastal area without warning a half-hour apart between 7 a.m. and 8 a.m. The first hit at the harbor in Gulfport flipping 20 tractor trailer trucks parked bumper to bumper awaiting a load of bananas. Three drivers were hurt. An offshore dredge and a cat food plant also were heavily damaged.

The twisters were spawned by a cool front that moved eastward and spread severe storms from Louisiana to Florida.

One or more tornadoes ripped into Pensacola, Fla.—injuring 40 persons. The winds tore off part of the roof of an elementary school where 150 parents and children were holding a Halloween party and broke several windows but no one inside was hurt.

Sheriff Bill Davis of Escambia County said a "lot of houses and business places were blown away."

The storm drove heavy rains into Alabama. Some seven inches fell in Mobile in less than 24 hours. The Weather Bureau said either a tornado or a waterspout ripped the side off a store smashed 14 windows. No injuries were reported.

Several beach houses and buildings along the Alabama coast were badly damaged.

The most remote inhabited island in the world is the island of Tristan da Cunha, in the south Atlantic. The nearest inhabited land to it is the island of St. Helena, 1,320 miles northeast of it, and the nearest continent to it is Africa, 1,700 miles distant.

Bipartisan Support For Issue 1

The meaning of the U.S. Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" mandate in 1962 never was obscure.

Quite simply it invalidated all factors other than population in apportioning state legislatures.

The court held that malapportionment constitutes a violation of the equal protection clause of the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment.

Simple? To understand, yes. But to implement, hardly.

The Ohio Legislature has been trying for nearly three years. The result: a remarkable lack of practical proposals.

But somehow, after twice producing proposed constitutional amendments unacceptable to Ohio voters, the Ohio General Assembly last August pushed partisan politics to the background long enough to come up with a balanced proposal.

Significantly, the plan was placed on the Nov. 7 ballot, as Issue 1, by a bipartisan vote of the legislature.

All Republicans, 28 of the House of Representative's 37 Democrats and 5 of 10 Senate Democrats supported it.

Why this bipartisan backing?

First, the proposal restricts opportunities for population variance from district to district and requires districts to follow county lines as closely as possible.

Second, it guarantees minority party representation.

Plans defeated at the polls in 1965 and also May did not do this.

The reapportionment board would be composed of the governor, secretary of state and auditor, plus a Democrat selected by Democratic leaders of the legislature and a Republican picked by Republican leaders.

Inevitably, some still think this newest apportionment proposal is unfair. State Democratic Chairman Norton Neipp and Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, both from Toledo, object to it.

But neither state party organization is on record against it. Organized labor isn't against it, either.

Issue 1 is a compromise. It retains present districts until 1972 and provides boundries within which a reapportionment board with a guaranteed minority voice must operate after that.

Practical Ohioans should recognize what their state legislators recognized in the dying hours of the 106th General Assembly's first session—that the plan is fair to all and should be incorporated in Ohio's constitution.

Call Firemen First

Firemen at the Central Station, pulling their boots on after receiving a telephoned call about the blaze which claimed 4-year-old Paul R. Duncan Saturday night, could see flames shooting out of the windows of the home five blocks away.

The woman who called at 10:26 described it as "An awful fire at Avondale and Minerva. . . there are children, and I don't know whether they are out or not. . ."

There is every evidence that there was some inadvertent delay between the time the fire was first discovered and when firemen were actually notified.

Two youths and firemen risked their lives to hunt for the boy while the blaze continued.

The lesson here is one which has been proven too often in the past—firemen should be called as soon as possible after a blaze is discovered. No one should assume someone else has called. No one should try to fight a blaze without first summoning firemen.

Seconds lost in getting professional, trained help and equipment can be the difference between life and death.

Put That In Your Pipe

Shaping of wet sewer pipe clay into large art forms has its latest devotee in a onetime College of Steubenville instructor, now head of the art department at Catham College.

Jerry Caplan, painter - sculptor in the Shadyside district of Pittsburgh, has prepared a one-man show Nov. 12-29 at Falk Hall which includes 16 pieces formed from pipe at the Kaul Clay Co. at Toronto last summer.

He spent two weeks at the plant, cutting and molding wet pipe cores into unusual figures, dancing forms and fountain structures.

Caplan got the idea while working at Kaul 12 years ago, and this year received a grant from Chatham to study the potential. Clay proved readily reshaped, with a low percentage cracking loss despite bending or warping.

The art form can be developed further, he believes, and can inspire new creativity in our clay-rich district. Put that in your pipe and sculpt it!

Board Asked For Trouble

The school dispute at Martins Ferry that has disrupted classes for more than a week is an example of how not to handle a teacher salary issue.

The board, responsible for keeping schools open for its 3,000 students, voted last week to bar teachers involved in last spring's strike from pay raises guaranteed by the legislature.

Teachers became irked at the board action denying them statewide salary increases and boycotted classes.

The action also irked Dr. Martin Essex, state school superintendent, who has ordered the school board to rescind its resolution to withhold the money from teachers. The board has 10 days to comply.

It is understandable there may be animosity between the board and teachers as a result of the previous strike, but it is not easy to understand why the board chose the method it did to punish teachers. The pay increases were approved at the state level and it is outside the school board's power to hold them up.

Teachers accepted the resolution as a slap in the face and reacted as could be expected. The board surely must have anticipated the reaction — so why did it invite trouble?

Another strike resulted, the teacher split is widened and the board is not living up to its primary responsibility of keeping schools open for 3,000 students.

The situation called for diplomacy. The Martins Ferry board rsponded by acting like a bull in a china shop.

Other boards around Ohio passed along the salary increase as required by the state instead of trying to use it as a club over teachers. That was the right way to handle the matter.

The Martins Ferry board acted unwisely and the school system may pay for it for a long time.

A tiny puff of air — hardly enough to blow out a candle — can stop a locomotive.

The secret is fluidics — the technique of making controls, or switches, out of liquids and gases, the National Geographic Society says.

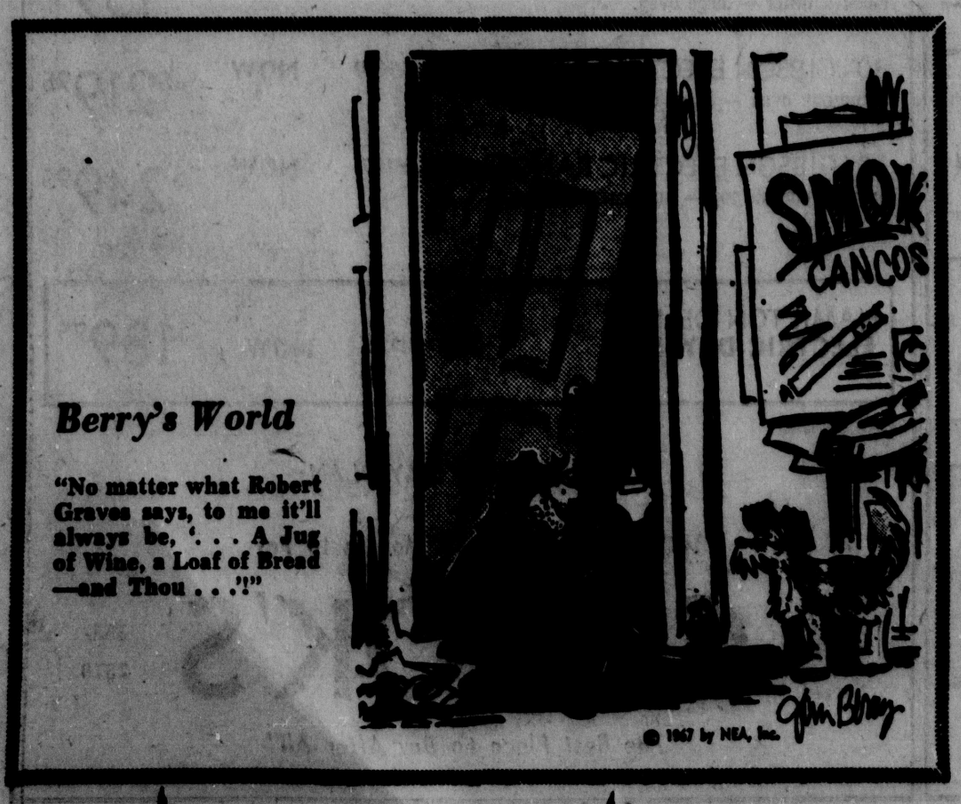

Detroit automobile manufacturers are investigating fluid controls. Some day such devices may replace carburetors or provide new automotive safety measures.

Fluid controls guide aircraft and missiles and supervise assembly line operations. They monitor package - wrapping machines and even position clothing in the manufacture of garments.

When conversation turns to highway safety, I tell about a man I once knew who drive two million miles without an accident and said his secret was to brood about how to avid accidents he was afraid might kill him if he didn't keep himself and his vehicle from being involved in them. That was Defensive Driving with a double big D.

Stories about the vital targets our Air Force is hitting in North Vietnam . . . and hitting . . . and hitting . . . remind me of a fellow I once worked with who had been everywhere and done everything, except when we figured it out he would have to be 175 years old to account for all the time it took.

I suspect Lady Bird Johnson, our first lady, has a better image than has been projected for most of us and may be one of our admirable citizens back of that ridiculous Texas accent.

'What's A Girl?'

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

The bleak news out of Da Nang, South Vietnam, last week was that the United States Marine Corps was trying to discourage pinups in U.S. Marine Corps quarters. The campaign was launched when commanding generals at Da Nang informed their officers that the Marine Corps does not approve of pinups. It was followed up by a Marine Corps chaplain's sermon warning about the evils of pinups, particularly the young ladies whose forms fold out of Playboy magazine.

Art Buchwald

As a fomer Marine I was shocked, hurt and bewildered by the Marine Corps attitude toward pinups. Through the years from Montezuma to Tripoli, young Marines not only have been inspired by the pinups they carried in their footlockers, but they also sedved as a reminder of what they were fighting for.

THE MARINE CORPS tends to send Marines to places where the females they see from one year to the next are the ones pinned to the walls of their tents. If it weren't for the pinups it is doubtful that a Marine would be able to return to normal society and behave like a human being.

I recall during World War II walking into a friend's tent at Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands and seeing a photo pasted in a friend's footlocker. I had been on the island for 14 months, but this was the first time I had seen the picture.

"What's that?" I asked my friend.

"It's a girl," he replied.

"What's a girl?" I demanded.

"Well, it's like a man only it's different."

"I can see that, stupid," I said. "What's it do?"

"Well, it talks a great deal and it has babies and wears a lot of silly clothes."

"But that one isn't wearing any clothes," I pointed out.

"I know. That's why it's a pinup. If it had a lot of clothes I wouldn't want to look at it."

"Why not?"

"Because you wouldn't be able to see anything if it had clothes on."

"What do you want to see?"

"Well, if I couldn't look at it with no clothes on I wouldn't know it was different from us. And if I didn't think there was something back in the States different from us I'd shoot myself here and now."

"It looks funny," I said.

"That's because you've been out here too long. Haven't you ever heard of girls before?"

"I THINK I HEARD the fellows talking about them the other night. But I couldn't make head nor tail of what they were saying. Some nut said you're supposed to hold them in your arms, and another crackpot said you're supposed to kiss them. Doesn't that beat all?" I laughed.

"That's exactly what you're supposed to do with them. They get awfully mad if you don't."

"Well, I'll be damned," I said. "I thought they were kidding me."

"You can't be out here that long," my friend said. "Surely you remember girls from the States?"

"I think I do, vaguely. They're softer, aren't they?"

"Much softer."

"Let me look at it again," I said, "Maybe it will all come back."

I studied the picture for months, and by the time I returned to the United States I knew exactly what a girl looked like. It certainly helped me when I started up my social life again.

There are probably thousands of men at Da Nang who are now in the same spot I was in at Eniwetok and without pinups to show them what girls look like. I'd hate to think how they'll behave when they come home.

VICTOR RIESEL

The Misdirected Telegram

NEW YORK — The mystery of the wayward White House radiogram has been solved. The Justice Dept. knows exactly what happened to the eyes-only message dispatched by Marvin Watson to Price Daniels, Lyndon Johnson's man on the SS Independence. There were FBI agents and other security men aboard ship when she sailed out of this huge harbor. Additional Bureau men from the San Juan office boarded her in the Virgin Islands.

Victor Riesel

Since everybody in the case "got positioned" — from the President to Gov. Ronnie Reagan — no one is talking. That is, no one but leaders of the 600 union men aboard.

They had the big floating luxury hotel perfectly "policed." Joe Curran's National Maritime Union put one of its best men, Cecil Morris, a New York port official, on the liner. He was dispatched to make certain that all disputes among the 550-man unlicensed crew and the ship's officers and management (in the person of the line's vice president in charge of special services, who was aboard) were settled smoothly and swiftly.

As for the American Radio Assn. (AFL-CIO), led by Bill Steinberg, it too wanted smooth sailing. Because the regular ship complement in the "shack" runs to six men, many more communications men were needed for this seagoing convention. So the ARA got an additional six radio operators and 18 more Teletype men. Thus there were 24 newcomers aboard. In all, the 30-man detachment handled at least half a million words (not yet counted) and 1,018 radio telephone calls. It turned into a communications hellbox. At lest one man worked 26 hours at a stretch. Others went 18 hours.

THROUGH ALL THIS maze, the unions traced the White House radiogram. The message arrived at 2 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 18. It was taken, of course, in Morse code, tanscribed and tossed into the delivery basket with others pouring in.

According to union sources, there is a receipt showing that it was delivered to Mr. Daniels within 45 minutes. Now the point is who has that receipt? And the point is who took the copy of the radiogram, sealed it an envelope and then delivered it to Reagan's stateroom hours later?

The original was picked up by a bellboy — an NMU man — and delivered to Daniels. This is customary. He would not have had the time to rush down six decks, get to the "stat" machine, run off some 50 copies, secret them, reseal the message and then get it to the White House contact, all in 45 minutes. Not with the load of other "wires" which had to be handled.

Since chief radio operator Charles Berger, an officer with 16 years behind him, was in charge, the responsibility naturally rests on him. So the American Export-Isbrandtsen Lines suspended him. The ARA, equally naturally, plans to fight for his reinstatement. By the time the SS Independence docked, at 6:10 p.m., Oct. 24, Bill Steinberg's office already had spoken with Berger over the radio phone. Immediately the 30 union men were freed for shore side, they were summoned to the union's national headquarters here. The ARA people are publicly cautious, but privately convinced that none of their people "betrayed" President Johnson.

THEY AND JOE CURRAN'S men aren't talking publicly — and for a good reason. Someone could go to prison for intercepting even the copy of the radiogram.

Section 605 of the 1934 Federal Communcation Act is very tough and very specific. It says that even releasing the "substance, import, effect or meaning" or "any part thereof" of a radio message is a federal crime.

DAVID LAWRENCE

All The People

The least comprehensible answer that has been made to a public-opinion survey is one just recorded by the Gallup Poll which declares that 70 per cent of the population think the Johnson administration has not told the public "all they should know about the Vietnam War."

What else is there for the people to know that has not been already stated by President Johnson, Secretary of State Rusk and other spokesmen for the government?

It is pertinent to point out that protesters, demonstrators and several members of Congress in both parties have unwittingly done a massive job of distortion and misled the American people about the real issues of the war.

Answers to one question in the poll show 46 per cent agreed it was a mistake to send troops to fight in Vietnam in the first place. A majority of 57 per cent say the United States should not send troops if a situation like Vietnam were to develop in another part of the world.

THE SAD FACT is that protesters have had the stage. They have been more vocal than any other group and have publicized their views by marches, rallies and demonstrations that have been newsworthy from the standpoint of television and the press.

News always must be presented, and those on the other side just don't get their case before the people in dramatic fashion.

Belatedly, moves are being made by those who support the nation's commitment in Vietnam. A Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam has been formed. Included in the 107 founding members are former Presidents Eisenhower and Truman, two former secretaries of state, James F. Byrnes and Dean Acheson, and Gen. Omar Bradley.

But even such movements as these may not get the same public attention as dissenters, because they do not engage in publicity stunts.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations in the Senate, has just made a statement which will be given worldwide attention.

He said "the real problem is not an issue of procedure" in getting out of Vietnam, but one of "making up the minds of our leaders that they want to compromise this and get out."

He added: "This is the decision necessary before you are bothered about procedure. If we really conclude — that is, if our government could conclude that it is not within our interest, I'm sure ways could be found to get out."

Press reports of Sen. Fulbright's comments are broadcast throughout the world, and are read with much interest in Hanoi. The North Vietnamese may be suffering severe punishment from American bombing. But when they read dispatches telling them of such a proposal for compromise and abject withdrawal, why shouldn't the Hanoi government keep up the fight and demand more concessions?

PAUL HASLUCK, external affairs minister of Australia, has just told the House of Representatives in Canberra: "We are steadily winning the war."

Mr. Hasluck declared, "With such bombing effcets as lost production and a big tie-up of manpower repairing air raid damage, North Vietnam is paying a tremendous price."

He added, however, that "the hostilities are being prolonged by every action or word that encourages Hanoi to believe the Allies will eventually grow tired and go home," and that "antiwar demonstrations and declarations by minority groups in Allied countries are in fact encouraging the war."

So it comes back to how the true facts and significance of the Vietnam War, itself, can be conveyed to more people.

The administration furnishes all the arguments to the press, but how are they going to be understood by people generally unless more citizens groups participate in clarifying the situation for all peopls?

The court held that malapportionment constitutes a violation of the equal protection clause of the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment.

Simple? To understand, yes. But to implement, hardly.

The Ohio Legislature has been trying for nearly three years. The result: a remarkable lack of practical proposals.

But somehow, after twice producing proposed constitutional amendments unacceptable to Ohio voters, the Ohio General Assembly last August pushed partisan politics to the background long enough to come up with a balanced proposal.

Significantly, the plan was placed on the Nov. 7 ballot, as Issue 1, by a bipartisan vote of the legislature.

All Republicans, 28 of the House of Representative's 37 Democrats and 5 of 10 Senate Democrats supported it.

Why this bipartisan backing?

First, the proposal restricts opportunities for population variance from district to district and requires districts to follow county lines as closely as possible.

Second, it guarantees minority party representation.

Plans defeated at the polls in 1965 and also May did not do this.

The reapportionment board would be composed of the governor, secretary of state and auditor, plus a Democrat selected by Democratic leaders of the legislature and a Republican picked by Republican leaders.

Inevitably, some still think this newest apportionment proposal is unfair. State Democratic Chairman Norton Neipp and Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, both from Toledo, object to it.

But neither state party organization is on record against it. Organized labor isn't against it, either.

Issue 1 is a compromise. It retains present districts until 1972 and provides boundries within which a reapportionment board with a guaranteed minority voice must operate after that.

Practical Ohioans should recognize what their state legislators recognized in the dying hours of the 106th General Assembly's first session—that the plan is fair to all and should be incorporated in Ohio's constitution.

Call Firemen First

Firemen at the Central Station, pulling their boots on after receiving a telephoned call about the blaze which claimed 4-year-old Paul R. Duncan Saturday night, could see flames shooting out of the windows of the home five blocks away.

The woman who called at 10:26 described it as "An awful fire at Avondale and Minerva. . . there are children, and I don't know whether they are out or not. . ."

There is every evidence that there was some inadvertent delay between the time the fire was first discovered and when firemen were actually notified.

Two youths and firemen risked their lives to hunt for the boy while the blaze continued.

The lesson here is one which has been proven too often in the past—firemen should be called as soon as possible after a blaze is discovered. No one should assume someone else has called. No one should try to fight a blaze without first summoning firemen.

Seconds lost in getting professional, trained help and equipment can be the difference between life and death.

Put That In Your Pipe

Shaping of wet sewer pipe clay into large art forms has its latest devotee in a onetime College of Steubenville instructor, now head of the art department at Catham College.

Jerry Caplan, painter - sculptor in the Shadyside district of Pittsburgh, has prepared a one-man show Nov. 12-29 at Falk Hall which includes 16 pieces formed from pipe at the Kaul Clay Co. at Toronto last summer.

He spent two weeks at the plant, cutting and molding wet pipe cores into unusual figures, dancing forms and fountain structures.

Caplan got the idea while working at Kaul 12 years ago, and this year received a grant from Chatham to study the potential. Clay proved readily reshaped, with a low percentage cracking loss despite bending or warping.

The art form can be developed further, he believes, and can inspire new creativity in our clay-rich district. Put that in your pipe and sculpt it!

Board Asked For Trouble

The school dispute at Martins Ferry that has disrupted classes for more than a week is an example of how not to handle a teacher salary issue.

The board, responsible for keeping schools open for its 3,000 students, voted last week to bar teachers involved in last spring's strike from pay raises guaranteed by the legislature.

Teachers became irked at the board action denying them statewide salary increases and boycotted classes.

The action also irked Dr. Martin Essex, state school superintendent, who has ordered the school board to rescind its resolution to withhold the money from teachers. The board has 10 days to comply.

It is understandable there may be animosity between the board and teachers as a result of the previous strike, but it is not easy to understand why the board chose the method it did to punish teachers. The pay increases were approved at the state level and it is outside the school board's power to hold them up.

Teachers accepted the resolution as a slap in the face and reacted as could be expected. The board surely must have anticipated the reaction — so why did it invite trouble?

Another strike resulted, the teacher split is widened and the board is not living up to its primary responsibility of keeping schools open for 3,000 students.

The situation called for diplomacy. The Martins Ferry board rsponded by acting like a bull in a china shop.

Other boards around Ohio passed along the salary increase as required by the state instead of trying to use it as a club over teachers. That was the right way to handle the matter.

The Martins Ferry board acted unwisely and the school system may pay for it for a long time.

This 'N That

A tiny puff of air — hardly enough to blow out a candle — can stop a locomotive.

The secret is fluidics — the technique of making controls, or switches, out of liquids and gases, the National Geographic Society says.

Detroit automobile manufacturers are investigating fluid controls. Some day such devices may replace carburetors or provide new automotive safety measures.

Fluid controls guide aircraft and missiles and supervise assembly line operations. They monitor package - wrapping machines and even position clothing in the manufacture of garments.

When conversation turns to highway safety, I tell about a man I once knew who drive two million miles without an accident and said his secret was to brood about how to avid accidents he was afraid might kill him if he didn't keep himself and his vehicle from being involved in them. That was Defensive Driving with a double big D.

Stories about the vital targets our Air Force is hitting in North Vietnam . . . and hitting . . . and hitting . . . remind me of a fellow I once worked with who had been everywhere and done everything, except when we figured it out he would have to be 175 years old to account for all the time it took.

I suspect Lady Bird Johnson, our first lady, has a better image than has been projected for most of us and may be one of our admirable citizens back of that ridiculous Texas accent.

'What's A Girl?'

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

The bleak news out of Da Nang, South Vietnam, last week was that the United States Marine Corps was trying to discourage pinups in U.S. Marine Corps quarters. The campaign was launched when commanding generals at Da Nang informed their officers that the Marine Corps does not approve of pinups. It was followed up by a Marine Corps chaplain's sermon warning about the evils of pinups, particularly the young ladies whose forms fold out of Playboy magazine.

Art Buchwald

As a fomer Marine I was shocked, hurt and bewildered by the Marine Corps attitude toward pinups. Through the years from Montezuma to Tripoli, young Marines not only have been inspired by the pinups they carried in their footlockers, but they also sedved as a reminder of what they were fighting for.

THE MARINE CORPS tends to send Marines to places where the females they see from one year to the next are the ones pinned to the walls of their tents. If it weren't for the pinups it is doubtful that a Marine would be able to return to normal society and behave like a human being.

I recall during World War II walking into a friend's tent at Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands and seeing a photo pasted in a friend's footlocker. I had been on the island for 14 months, but this was the first time I had seen the picture.

"What's that?" I asked my friend.

"It's a girl," he replied.

"What's a girl?" I demanded.

"Well, it's like a man only it's different."

"I can see that, stupid," I said. "What's it do?"

"Well, it talks a great deal and it has babies and wears a lot of silly clothes."

"But that one isn't wearing any clothes," I pointed out.

"I know. That's why it's a pinup. If it had a lot of clothes I wouldn't want to look at it."

"Why not?"

"Because you wouldn't be able to see anything if it had clothes on."

"What do you want to see?"

"Well, if I couldn't look at it with no clothes on I wouldn't know it was different from us. And if I didn't think there was something back in the States different from us I'd shoot myself here and now."

"It looks funny," I said.

"That's because you've been out here too long. Haven't you ever heard of girls before?"

"I THINK I HEARD the fellows talking about them the other night. But I couldn't make head nor tail of what they were saying. Some nut said you're supposed to hold them in your arms, and another crackpot said you're supposed to kiss them. Doesn't that beat all?" I laughed.

"That's exactly what you're supposed to do with them. They get awfully mad if you don't."

"Well, I'll be damned," I said. "I thought they were kidding me."

"You can't be out here that long," my friend said. "Surely you remember girls from the States?"

"I think I do, vaguely. They're softer, aren't they?"

"Much softer."

"Let me look at it again," I said, "Maybe it will all come back."

I studied the picture for months, and by the time I returned to the United States I knew exactly what a girl looked like. It certainly helped me when I started up my social life again.

There are probably thousands of men at Da Nang who are now in the same spot I was in at Eniwetok and without pinups to show them what girls look like. I'd hate to think how they'll behave when they come home.

VICTOR RIESEL

The Misdirected Telegram

NEW YORK — The mystery of the wayward White House radiogram has been solved. The Justice Dept. knows exactly what happened to the eyes-only message dispatched by Marvin Watson to Price Daniels, Lyndon Johnson's man on the SS Independence. There were FBI agents and other security men aboard ship when she sailed out of this huge harbor. Additional Bureau men from the San Juan office boarded her in the Virgin Islands.

Victor Riesel

Since everybody in the case "got positioned" — from the President to Gov. Ronnie Reagan — no one is talking. That is, no one but leaders of the 600 union men aboard.

They had the big floating luxury hotel perfectly "policed." Joe Curran's National Maritime Union put one of its best men, Cecil Morris, a New York port official, on the liner. He was dispatched to make certain that all disputes among the 550-man unlicensed crew and the ship's officers and management (in the person of the line's vice president in charge of special services, who was aboard) were settled smoothly and swiftly.

As for the American Radio Assn. (AFL-CIO), led by Bill Steinberg, it too wanted smooth sailing. Because the regular ship complement in the "shack" runs to six men, many more communications men were needed for this seagoing convention. So the ARA got an additional six radio operators and 18 more Teletype men. Thus there were 24 newcomers aboard. In all, the 30-man detachment handled at least half a million words (not yet counted) and 1,018 radio telephone calls. It turned into a communications hellbox. At lest one man worked 26 hours at a stretch. Others went 18 hours.

THROUGH ALL THIS maze, the unions traced the White House radiogram. The message arrived at 2 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 18. It was taken, of course, in Morse code, tanscribed and tossed into the delivery basket with others pouring in.

According to union sources, there is a receipt showing that it was delivered to Mr. Daniels within 45 minutes. Now the point is who has that receipt? And the point is who took the copy of the radiogram, sealed it an envelope and then delivered it to Reagan's stateroom hours later?

The original was picked up by a bellboy — an NMU man — and delivered to Daniels. This is customary. He would not have had the time to rush down six decks, get to the "stat" machine, run off some 50 copies, secret them, reseal the message and then get it to the White House contact, all in 45 minutes. Not with the load of other "wires" which had to be handled.

Since chief radio operator Charles Berger, an officer with 16 years behind him, was in charge, the responsibility naturally rests on him. So the American Export-Isbrandtsen Lines suspended him. The ARA, equally naturally, plans to fight for his reinstatement. By the time the SS Independence docked, at 6:10 p.m., Oct. 24, Bill Steinberg's office already had spoken with Berger over the radio phone. Immediately the 30 union men were freed for shore side, they were summoned to the union's national headquarters here. The ARA people are publicly cautious, but privately convinced that none of their people "betrayed" President Johnson.

THEY AND JOE CURRAN'S men aren't talking publicly — and for a good reason. Someone could go to prison for intercepting even the copy of the radiogram.

Section 605 of the 1934 Federal Communcation Act is very tough and very specific. It says that even releasing the "substance, import, effect or meaning" or "any part thereof" of a radio message is a federal crime.

DAVID LAWRENCE

All The People

The least comprehensible answer that has been made to a public-opinion survey is one just recorded by the Gallup Poll which declares that 70 per cent of the population think the Johnson administration has not told the public "all they should know about the Vietnam War."

What else is there for the people to know that has not been already stated by President Johnson, Secretary of State Rusk and other spokesmen for the government?

It is pertinent to point out that protesters, demonstrators and several members of Congress in both parties have unwittingly done a massive job of distortion and misled the American people about the real issues of the war.

Answers to one question in the poll show 46 per cent agreed it was a mistake to send troops to fight in Vietnam in the first place. A majority of 57 per cent say the United States should not send troops if a situation like Vietnam were to develop in another part of the world.

THE SAD FACT is that protesters have had the stage. They have been more vocal than any other group and have publicized their views by marches, rallies and demonstrations that have been newsworthy from the standpoint of television and the press.

News always must be presented, and those on the other side just don't get their case before the people in dramatic fashion.

Belatedly, moves are being made by those who support the nation's commitment in Vietnam. A Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam has been formed. Included in the 107 founding members are former Presidents Eisenhower and Truman, two former secretaries of state, James F. Byrnes and Dean Acheson, and Gen. Omar Bradley.

But even such movements as these may not get the same public attention as dissenters, because they do not engage in publicity stunts.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations in the Senate, has just made a statement which will be given worldwide attention.

He said "the real problem is not an issue of procedure" in getting out of Vietnam, but one of "making up the minds of our leaders that they want to compromise this and get out."

He added: "This is the decision necessary before you are bothered about procedure. If we really conclude — that is, if our government could conclude that it is not within our interest, I'm sure ways could be found to get out."

Press reports of Sen. Fulbright's comments are broadcast throughout the world, and are read with much interest in Hanoi. The North Vietnamese may be suffering severe punishment from American bombing. But when they read dispatches telling them of such a proposal for compromise and abject withdrawal, why shouldn't the Hanoi government keep up the fight and demand more concessions?

PAUL HASLUCK, external affairs minister of Australia, has just told the House of Representatives in Canberra: "We are steadily winning the war."

Mr. Hasluck declared, "With such bombing effcets as lost production and a big tie-up of manpower repairing air raid damage, North Vietnam is paying a tremendous price."

He added, however, that "the hostilities are being prolonged by every action or word that encourages Hanoi to believe the Allies will eventually grow tired and go home," and that "antiwar demonstrations and declarations by minority groups in Allied countries are in fact encouraging the war."

So it comes back to how the true facts and significance of the Vietnam War, itself, can be conveyed to more people.

The administration furnishes all the arguments to the press, but how are they going to be understood by people generally unless more citizens groups participate in clarifying the situation for all peopls?

Chester

vating Co. A second bid from the Acme Demolition and Wrecking Co., also of Youngstown, was for $7,242.

A third bid from Ira W. Van Fossan of Chester was disqualified when it was learned he did not fulfill the specifications set by the board. His bid was for $4,500.

Supt. Robbert Hall said this morning the board has a deed to the property and as far as he's concerned, the board is the legal owner.

The board has not said what it proposes to do with the lot once the building is razed.

TARR SAID he had heard Harper was making a claim to the property, but declared he had no knowledge of any legal action being taken.

Tarr added he feels the wording in the deed does not indicate a clear reversion to Harper.

Harper declared, "'If I don't own this property, then every man's deed in the country is in danger. If he (Tarr) can twist it around, then none of them are any good," Harper said.

"They can do as they please with the building," he said, adding he hoped the board would fulfill its promise to destroy the shell of the onetime elementary school building.

Harper said he would either develop the property or give it to the city of Chester, possibly for use as a playground.

"But not one penny of the money will go to me," he added.

Harper said he is handling the dispute for Chester Attorney William Ingram. He said Ingram purchased the deed from the Schrader heirs who had given it to the Chester City Board of Education. The city school board was merged with others when the county board was created.

THE HANCOCK board of education was given a legal opinion Monday night by Tarr after requesting a ruling on whether it could have the structure razed in accordance with wishes of Chester residents who have claimed it has been a hazard since the fire.

Recently dead pigeons were found strewn along the sidewalks bordering the building at 3rd and Indiana Ave., apparently shot by youngsters who frequently play in the burned-out school.

Harper laid claim to the building immediately after the fire in 1966.

At that time he told Assistant State Fire Marshall Roush and two investigators for the Chester fire department the property belongs to him.

Here is the statement taken by investigators:

"Harper said William Ingram, a Chester attorney, had willed his inheritance of the property to him (Harper). Harper stated the property formerly was owned by Ingram's father and when the county schools gave it up the property would revert back to the Ingran heirs. Harper indicated he owned the property, but stated he had not been in the property or school since he last taught there."

The statement was taken as part of the official investigation into the cause of the blaze.

U.N. Council Stymied On Mideast Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Security Council efforts toward a Middle East settlement appeared stymied today by new Israeli insistance on direct talks with the Arabs and refusal to pull back to prewar boundaries.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told Secretary-General U Thant Monday that Israel stands by its insistence on direct peace negotiations with the Arabs if any such talks are to be held.

Premier Levi Eshkol told the Israeli parliament in Jerusalem that new boundaries would have to be negotiated and Israel would not pull back to positions it held at the start of the June war.

Eban told newsmen at U.N. headquarters Israel's attitude toward two rival plans before the council—both of which would send a U.N. representative to the Middle East—would be determined by whether such a mission "prejudices the Israeli position."

The 10 nonpermanent members of the 15-nation council met twice Monday in an attempt to resolve differences between the two resolutions.

One proposal, drafted by Argentina, Brazil, Ethopia, India, Mali and Nigeria, spells out specific principles for a settlement and asks the U.N. representative to "contact the parties concerned in order to coordinate efforts to achieve the purpose of the resolution."

These principles include Israeli withdrawal from all Arab soil seized in the June conflict and an end to the Arab state of belligerency against Israel.

The other resolution by Denmark and Canada states vague principles and asserts that no nation in the area should "persist in refusing to withdraw" troops that are on another's territory against its will.

Informed sources said Israel feels that the six-nation proposal calling for Israeli withdrawal from all captured territories would prejudice its case and rule out negotiations with the Arabs on boundaries.

Egyptian informants in Cairo indicated recently that direct talks with Israel are out of the question for President Gamal Abdel Nasser or probably any other Arab leader and will be for three or four years.

land for the seventh straight day Monday, attacking four air fields, a key power plant and a big railroad yard. A U.S. Navy F4 Phantom shot down a MIG17 in an aerial duel between Navy jets and four of the Communist interceptors northeast of Hanoi, the U.S. Command said.

There were no Communist attacks in heavily guarded Saigon as Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu took the oath of office as South Vietnam's elected president in an outdoor ceremony watched H. Humphrey and representatives of 21 other foreign nations.

The Viet Cong made its first attack today at Loc Ninh about 3 a.m., striking under the cover of darkness and 30-foot rubber trees with the Special Forces camp as the first target.

That assault was repulsed, military spokesmen said, and an hour later the Reds moved east across an airstrip and hit the district headquarters compound and the Special Forces camp simultaneously.

Other Viet Cong units kept up a barrage of small arms and mortar fire on a U.S. 1st Division artillery base manned by 200 or more Americans less than a mile away in an attempt to keep them out of the battle.

The 1st Division artillerymen aimed their big guns directly at the Viet Cong attacking the district headquarters. American helicopters armed with machine guns and twin - engine C47s armed with rapid-firing Gatling guns also joined in beating back the Communist thrusts.

On their third try, about 5:15 a.m., the Viet Cong did penetrate the defensive perimeters of the Special Forces camp and the district headquarters. The defenders—about 100 militiamen at the district headquarters and 200 civilian irregulars at the Green Beret camp—beat them off with the help of the artillery and gunships.

"In neither case was the camp or district headquarters overrun," said a U.S. spokesman.

The Communists made one more effort, just before 7 a.m. against the Special Forces camp but again were beaten off. After that the fighting tapered off into sporadic small arms fire.

American infantrymen and government troops fanned out in the vicinity of Loc Ninh, which is near the Cambodian border, in pursuit of the main body of Communist troops which apparently had retreated, spokesmen said. No significant contact with the main body was reported after 7 a.m.

Four U.S. soldiers, including two Green Beret advisors to the civilian irregulars, were reported killed and 11 wounded in the fighting today, bringing the total American casualties in the three-day battle to 11 dead and 35 wounded.

South Vietnamese losses were described as light. At least 12 Vietnamese were killed and 41 wounded Sunday and Monday.

Chester

vating Co. A second bid from the Acme Demolition and Wrecking Co., also of Youngstown, was for $7,242.

A third bid from Ira W. Van Fossan of Chester was disqualified when it was learned he did not fulfill the specifications set by the board. His bid was for $4,500.

Supt. Robbert Hall said this morning the board has a deed to the property and as far as he's concerned, the board is the legal owner.

The board has not said what it proposes to do with the lot once the building is razed.

TARR SAID he had heard Harper was making a claim to the property, but declared he had no knowledge of any legal action being taken.

Tarr added he feels the wording in the deed does not indicate a clear reversion to Harper.

Harper declared, "'If I don't own this property, then every man's deed in the country is in danger. If he (Tarr) can twist it around, then none of them are any good," Harper said.

"They can do as they please with the building," he said, adding he hoped the board would fulfill its promise to destroy the shell of the onetime elementary school building.

Harper said he would either develop the property or give it to the city of Chester, possibly for use as a playground.

"But not one penny of the money will go to me," he added.

Harper said he is handling the dispute for Chester Attorney William Ingram. He said Ingram purchased the deed from the Schrader heirs who had given it to the Chester City Board of Education. The city school board was merged with others when the county board was created.

THE HANCOCK board of education was given a legal opinion Monday night by Tarr after requesting a ruling on whether it could have the structure razed in accordance with wishes of Chester residents who have claimed it has been a hazard since the fire.

Recently dead pigeons were found strewn along the sidewalks bordering the building at 3rd and Indiana Ave., apparently shot by youngsters who frequently play in the burned-out school.

Harper laid claim to the building immediately after the fire in 1966.

At that time he told Assistant State Fire Marshall Roush and two investigators for the Chester fire department the property belongs to him.

Here is the statement taken by investigators:

"Harper said William Ingram, a Chester attorney, had willed his inheritance of the property to him (Harper). Harper stated the property formerly was owned by Ingram's father and when the county schools gave it up the property would revert back to the Ingran heirs. Harper indicated he owned the property, but stated he had not been in the property or school since he last taught there."

The statement was taken as part of the official investigation into the cause of the blaze.

U.N. Council Stymied On Mideast Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) -- U.N. Security Council efforts toward a Middle East settlement appeared stymied today by new Israeli insistance on direct talks with the Arabs and refusal to pull back to prewar boundaries.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told Secretary-General U Thant Monday that Israel stands by its insistence on direct peace negotiations with the Arabs if any such talks are to be held.

Premier Levi Eshkol told the Israeli parliament in Jerusalem that new boundaries would have to be negotiated and Israel would not pull back to positions it held at the start of the June war.

Eban told newsmen at U.N. headquarters Israel's attitude toward two rival plans before the council—both of which would send a U.N. representative to the Middle East—would be determined by whether such a mission "prejudices the Israeli position."

The 10 nonpermanent members of the 15-nation council met twice Monday in an attempt to resolve differences between the two resolutions.

One proposal, drafted by Argentina, Brazil, Ethopia, India, Mali and Nigeria, spells out specific principles for a settlement and asks the U.N. representative to "contact the parties concerned in order to coordinate efforts to achieve the purpose of the resolution."

Foreign Aid Has New Set Of Frictions

WASHINGTON (AP) —The U. S. foreign aid program, traditionally a thorny issue on Capitol Hill, has produced a whole new set of frictions this year.

A conference of delegates from both houses is deadlocked over one area of the 1967 aid authorization bill with no sign of compromise in sight.

Senate conferees are refusing to yield on provisions adopted in that chamber to cut back on U.S. sales and grants of military equipment to underdeveloped nations.

The House delegation, with administration backing, is trying to eliminate those provisions and substitute compromise approaches.

But a conference Monday, the first in 18 days, broke up in disagreement after an hour's discussion in closed session. Various alternatives were discussed but none was acceptable to both sides.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he would prefer no aid bill at all this year to one that continued at its present level military aid to underdeveloped nations.

Fulbright and fellow Senate conferees have argued that sales of arms to such countries have helped keep them impoverished paying for equipment they don't need.

The House conferees, representing the administration view, hold that cutting back arms supplied under the program would amount to unilateral disarmament of friendly nations that are or could be threatened by Communist aggression.

The possibility has been raised in the House that a foreign aid appropriation bill, providing actual funds, will be passed without waiting for the deadlocked authorization measure, which sets policy and spending limits.

But this is viewed on the other side of the Capitol as a pressure tactic designed to convince the Senate conferees to give in on the military aid issue or see themselves bypassed.

Senate sources said that no matter what the House does, the Senate Appropriations Committee would not likely follow a move to bypass the authorization process.

Six books have been published without compensation by the National Geographic Society as a public service. They are "The White House;" "We the People, the Story of the United States Capitol;" "Equal Justice under Law, the Supreme Court in American Life;" "George Washington: Man and Monument;" "The Presidents of the United States of America" and "The Living White House."

Queen Tells House Of Lords Of Plans To Cut Their Power

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II told the ermine-robed members of Britain's House of Lords today that the Labor government plans to reduce their powers and eliminate their present hereditary basis.

Reform of the Lords, said the queen in her speech from the Throne opening the new session of Parliament, will enable the upper house "to develop within the framework of a modern parliamemntary system."

The queen's speech was not precise on what reforms the government plans and whether future membership in the House of Lords will be by election or appointment. The speech said the government is "prepared to enter into consultations appropriate to a constitutional change of such importance."

The speech, written by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government, was read by the queen as usual in the ornate Lords' chamber to the peers in their robes and coronets, with their ladies in long gowns and jewels. Wilson and his ministers from the House of Commons stood or sat on the steps of the throne.

The queen's speech contained the government's major legislative proposals for the coming session. In addition to the Lords' reform, the Labor government pledged to tighten the nation's gambling laws and extend the scope of laws against racial discrimination.

Johnson's Anticrime Bill Bristles With Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's anticrime bill has emerged from a Senate Judiciary subcommittee bristling with amendments that would grant expanded powers to police, including wiretapping and eavesdropping authority.

The subcommittee's version of the measure strikes out at recent Supreme Court decisions on criminal case confessions and electronic eavesdropping.

And it flies directly in the face of Johnson's request that Congress outlaw all electronic eavesdropping except in cases directly related to the national security.

As proposed by Johnson, the bill would have provided federal funds to assist in better training and equipping of local police forces.

As approved Monday by the subcommittee and sent to the full Senate Judiciary Committee, the measure also would:

—Remove Supreme Court restrictions on the admissibility of confessions in criminal cases.

—Permit wiretapping and other electronic eavesdropping by court order without previous determination that national security was involved.

—Authorize the FBI director to establish a National Institute of Law Enforcement Training and, at the request of any state or local government, provide training for its police force.

—Bar federal courts below the Supreme Court from granting writs of habeas corpus in cases where a conviction has been affirmed by a state supreme court.

—Permit eyewitnesses to a crime to identify suspects in a police line-up when the suspects have no attorney present to represent them.

Subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he hoped Congress would act on the bill this year. He has repeatedly accused the Supreme Court of handcuffing the police.

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I "set" the colors in garments?

A.—You can usually do a good job of this with table salt, although epsom salts are better for washing and rinsing delicately colored fabrics. Dissolve a teaspoonful of the salts to each gallon of water. The most delicate shades will not run or fade.

Q.—There are some white patches on my asphalt tile floor where alcohol was spilled. How can I remove these?

A.—By rubbing a little baby oil or olive oil into them.

Foreign Aid Has New Set Of Frictions

WASHINGTON (AP) —The U. S. foreign aid program, traditionally a thorny issue on Capitol Hill, has produced a whole new set of frictions this year.

A conference of delegates from both houses is deadlocked over one area of the 1967 aid authorization bill with no sign of compromise in sight.

Senate conferees are refusing to yield on provisions adopted in that chamber to cut back on U.S. sales and grants of military equipment to underdeveloped nations.

The House delegation, with administration backing, is trying to eliminate those provisions and substitute compromise approaches.

But a conference Monday, the first in 18 days, broke up in disagreement after an hour's discussion in closed session. Various alternatives were discussed but none was acceptable to both sides.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he would prefer no aid bill at all this year to one that continued at its present level mliitary aid to underdeveloped nations.

Fulbright and fellow Senate conferees have argued that sales of arms to such countries have helped keep them impoverished paying for equipment they don't need.

The House conferees, representing the administration view, hold that cutting back arms supplied under the program would amount to unilateral disarmament of friendly nations that are or could be threatened by Communist aggression.

The possibility has been raised in the House that a foreign aid appropriation bill, providing actual funds, will be passed without waiting for the deadlocked authorization measure, which sets policy and spending limits.

But this is viewed on the other side of the Capitol as a pressure tactic designed to convince the Senate conferees to give in on the military aid issue or see themselves bypassed.

Senate sources said that no matter what the House does, the Senate Appropriations Committee would not likely follow a move to bypass the authorization process.

Six books have been published without compensation by the National Geographic Society as a public service. They are "The White House;" "We the People, the Story of the United States Capitol;" "Equal Justice under Law, the Supreme Court in American Life;" "George Washington: Man and Monument;" "The Presidents of the United States of America" and "The Living White House."

Hearing Due In Wounding

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Thursday, Nov. 9, for Chester L. Turner of Erie St., charged with assault with a dangerous weapon in connection with the pistol wounding of another East End man early Sunday morning.

Turner was advised to obtain counsel prior to the hearing. No plea was entered in his appearance today on an affidavit filed by the wounded man, Will Mercer, 63, of 1213 Erie St. Judge Chertoff set bond at $2,500.

Police advised the judge Mercer may remain at City Hospital "'for some time" with a .38 caliber bullet wound in his upper right arm. Turner is accused of firing a pistol during an argument with Mercer at Mercer's home Sunday about 4 a. m.

Officers said the bullet penetrated Mercer's arm from the rear and lodged under the skin at the front. He signed the assault charge Monday morning in the hospital.

Questioned by the court about his address, Turner told the judge he resides on Erie St. He said he previously resided at Waterford Park Race Track. Officers identified him as a native of Charleston Town, W. Va., and said he once was employed at the track as a chaffeur.

Coroner Rules Boy's Hanging Was Accidental

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Seneca County Coroner Albert O'Halloran ruled accidental death today in the hanging of a 14-year-old boy who was found in a manhole.

O'Halloran said the death of Steven Zuern occurred while the "youth was experimenting in an act of misadventures." He ruled out suicide and said there was no evidence "to indicate homicide."

The boy's body was found by a search party on Kraut Elementary School property just before dark Sunday.

Steven was hanging from a rope that had been tied to the manhole cover handle. The cover was upside down in the manhole.

O'Halloran earlier had ruled out accidental death until he learned youngsters often played around the manhole.

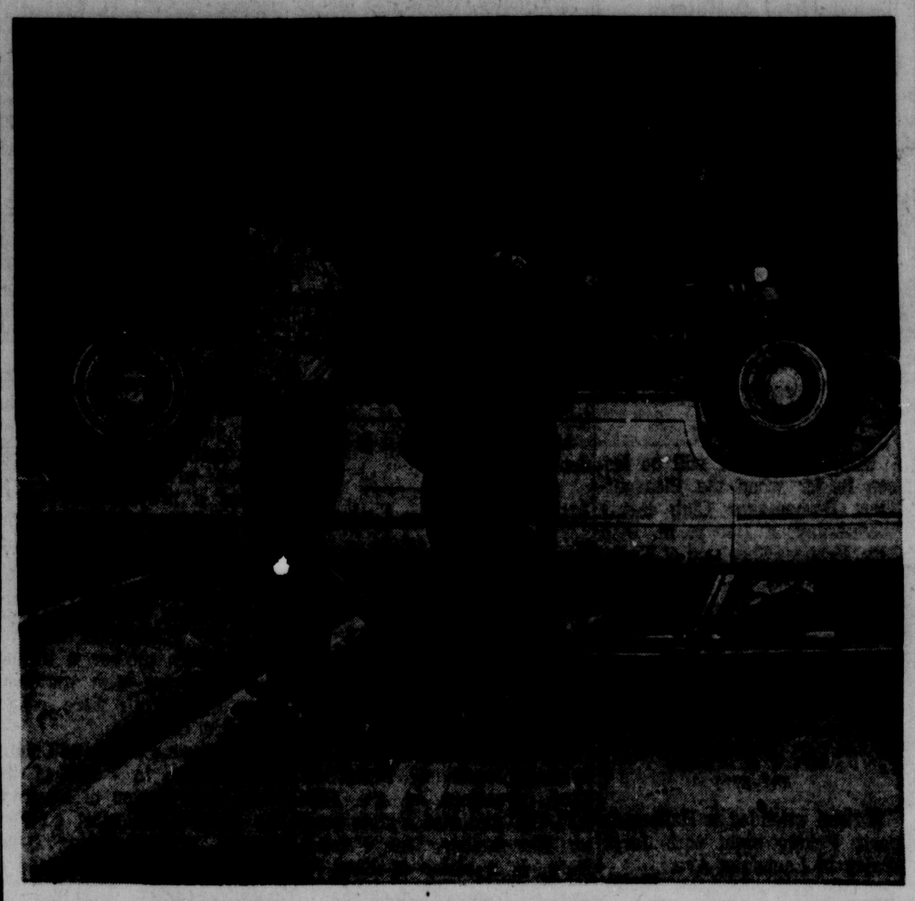

Steven was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Zuern.

Meeting Planned For People Who've Had Larynx Surgery

A meeting of persons who have had their larynx removed will be held Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, W. 5th and Jackson Sts.

The purpose will be to organize a Lost Chord Club. At present, Ohio has 11 such clubs for laryngectomees, according to Mrs. Paul Barger of Poland, who is planning the local meeting.

Mrs. Jayne Calhoun, executive director of the Columbiana County unit, American Cancer Society, said the club will be sponsored by the county unit and affiliated with the International Association of Laryngectomees.

The association is dedicated to helping all laryngectomees become completely rehabilitated which includes going back to work, learning to speak and resuming all activities and family relations as before the operation.

"It will be the purpose of the proposed East Liverpool club to carry out this program to our own people," Mrs. Barger said. Walter Park, president of the Ohio League of Laryngectomees, will attend.

Mrs. Barger said club programs will be social and educational to help new laryngectomees bridge the gap between isolation and society. There will be guest speakers, interesting films and refreshments. Relatives of laryngectomees are invited.

There is a constant increase of laryngectomees here and throughout the country, Mrs. Barger said. "Through the Cancer Society and the Bureau of Rehabilitation, they are being helped to learn to speak again and to lead perfectly normal lives," she added.

Jurors Hear Suit Against Lisbon Estate

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury is hearing testimony in a civil suit against the estate of a wealthy Lisbon woman who died in 1966.

George Morris Ketchum of Diamond RD 1, formerly of Lisbon, seeks money for services rendered Mrs. Elizabeth Speaker and her son Charles from 1950 through 1961.

Charles, in his middle 30's and described by one witness as mentally retarded, is in a special home at Columbus.

The defendant is Orein A. Naragon of 897 Home Circle, Salem, who testified his only interest in the case is as executor of Mrs. Speaker's will.

Ketchum stated his claim was filed within the statutory time limit and was rejected by Naragon. The plaintiff testified he has received "not one penny." His counsel, questioning Naragon, brought out that Mrs. Speaker had assets of $500,000.

Ketchum was not permitted to tell the jury what arrangements he had with Mrs. Ketchum relative to his pay.

When his counsel asked him that question, defense counsel objected and Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sustained the objection. The judge told the jury there is a so-called "dead man's statute" under which one party cannot testify to terms of an agreement, when it is an issue, if the other party is dead.

Coroner Rules Boy's Hanging Was Accidental

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Seneca County Coroner Albert O'Halloran ruled accidental death today in the hanging of a 14-year-old boy who was found in a manhole.

O'Halloran said the death of Steven Zuern occurred while the "youth was experimenting in an act of misadventures." He ruled out suicide and said there was no evidence "to indicate homicide."

The boy's body was found by a search party on Kraut Elementary School property just before dark Sunday.

Steven was hanging from a rope that had been tied to the manhole cover handle. The cover was upside down in the manhole.

O'Halloran earlier had ruled out accidental death until he learned youngsters often played around the manhole.

Steven was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Zuern.

Meeting Planned For People Who've Had Larynx Surgery

A meeting of persons who have had their larynx removed will be held Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, W. 5th and Jackson Sts.

The purpose will be to organize a Lost Chord Club. At present, Ohio has 11 such clubs for laryngectomees, according to Mrs. Paul Barger of Poland, who is planning the local meeting.

Mrs. Jayne Calhoun, executive director of the Columbiana County unit, American Cancer Society, said the club will be sponsored by the county unit and affiliated with the International Association of Laryngectomees.

The association is dedicated to helping all laryngectomees become completely rehabilitated which includes going back to work, learning to speak and resuming all activities and family relations as before the operation.

"It will be the purpose of the proposed East Liverpool club to carry out this program to our own people," Mrs. Barger said. Walter Park, president of the Ohio League of Laryngectomees, will attend.

Mrs. Barger said club programs will be social and educational to help new laryngectomees bridge the gap between isolation and society. There will be guest speakers, interesting films and refreshments. Relatives of laryngectomees are invited.

There is a constant increase of laryngectomees here and throughout the country, Mrs. Barger said. "Through the Cancer Society and the Bureau of Rehabilitation, they are being helped to learn to speak again and to lead perfectly normal lives," she added.

Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Barger, 10107 New Springfield Rd., Poland 44514.

St. Clair Urges Voter Support Of 2-Mill Road Levy

An appeal for voter support of a new St. Clair Township road levy was issued today by township trustees who said funds are urgently needed to provide for improvements on streets and roads in the township.

The proposed 2-mill levy on the Nov. 7 ballot would be for five years, and would bring in an estimated $18,000 annually for road work.

The township is one of the few in the area which has not had a road levy, trustees said, but money is needed to keep up with the increasing tasks of maintaining and improving the some 69 miles of roadway—half hardsurfaced and half dirt.

At a meeting Monday night the trustees approved a request for grading work on Sunset Dr., granted the Ohio Valley Gas Co. permission for an excavation on Lincoln St. for a new gas line and paid bills totaling $2,102.

Trustees requested those who have not yet paid for the blade mix job completed a month ago to make final payment. About $2,500 is still unpaid from the project which cost $3,460.

Rulings Made For Hancock School Board

NEW CUMBERLAND — Legal opinions concerning use of Hancock County school property and immunizations were received from County Prosecutor Floyd Tarr at a meeting of the Hancock Board of Education Monday night.

Tarr, who had been requested for rulings earlier by the board, outlined his stand on the use of schools by non - school organizations, especially those with religious affiliations.

The ruling was requested by Dr. Eli Weller, who expressed concern because of a Supreme Court ruling of separation of church and public school programs.

Tarr said the use of school property for other than its originally intended purpose is permissable so long as it does not conflict with the property's regular use and if no school funds or personnel in their official capacity are used.

The second opinion concerned the recent act by the West Virginia Legislature making it compulsory for children to show proof of immunization. Dr. Weller asked that a sworn affidavit from the parent be used in lieu of the record when it cannot be obtained by parents.

Tarr said this could be done legally so long as the affidavit contains the three items: (1)—a claim that the doctor's statement is not available; (2)—the parents indicate what shots already have been administered; (3)—knowledge by the parent of when booster shots are needed.

The ruling was requested when it was found a number of parents whose children were immunized no longer have the records and were not able to obtain one for various reasons.

Rulings Made For Hancock School Board

NEW CUMBERLAND — Legal opinions concerning use of Hancock County school property and immunizations were received from County Prosecutor Floyd Tarr at a meeting of the Hancock Board of Education Monday night.

Tarr, who had been requested for rulings earlier by the board, outlined his stand on the use of schools by non - school organizations, especially those with religious affiliations.

The ruling was requested by Dr. Eli Weller, who expressed concern because of a Supreme Court ruling of separation of church and public school programs.

Tarr said the use of school property for other than its originally intended purpose is permissable so long as it does not conflict with the property's regular use and if no school funds or personnel in their official capacity are used.

The second opinion concerned the recent act by the West Virginia Legislature making it compulsory for children to show proof of immunization. Dr. Weller asked that a sworn affidavit from the parent be used in lieu of the record when it cannot be obtained by parents.

Tarr said this could be done legally so long as the affidavit contains the three items: (1)—a claim that the doctor's statement is not available; (2)—the parents indicate what shots already have been administered; (3)—knowledge by the parent of when booster shots are needed.

The ruling was requested when it was found a number of parents whose children were immunized no longer have the records and were not able to obtain one for various reasons.

Underworld Figure Slain In Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Miami underworld figure who police say is known as "the Enforcer" was shot and killed today as he entered a North Bay Village restaurant.

Police said Thomas Altamura was cut down as he walked into the Place for Steak Restaurant in the causeway city between Miami and Miami Beach.

A short time later, a sheriff's department spokesman said Anthony "Big Tony" Esperti surrendered himself to detectives at a Miami street corner in connection with the shooting Esperti was in the company of an attorney.

Altamura, 53, had been called before numerous grand juries during the last 10 years in connection with gambling, labor racketeering, narcotics and contract murders.

Detectives said Esperti followed Altamura into the lobby of the eating place and blazed away five times with a .38-caliber pistol.

"Witnesses said there wasn't even an exchange of words between them," an officer said.

Altamura was hit twice in the head. One bullet plowed through an upthrown hand and into his neck.

Police said Esperti, 37, was the apparent target of a bomb which exploded in a Miami nightclub Sept. 23. He was uninjured. Authorities said Esperti has a record of arrests on charges of armed robbery and extortion.

Brush Fires Keep Raging In California

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — Brush fires in six Southern California counties raged for the third straight day today, killing an elderly woman, forcing evacuation of thousands of residents and destroying scores of homes

The flames, whipped by winds gusting up to 100 miles an hour, had destroyed more than 125,000 acres by early morning. Officials estimated total fire damage at more than $2 million.

The body of Abigil Blodgett, 81, was found Monday in the basement of her small Riverside County home five miles north of San Jacinto. Forest rangers said they thought her house was a barn and bypassed it when they went through the area warning residents of the approaching flames.

The largest of several blazes left 50 homes known destroyed in Orange County, southeast of Los Angeles. More than 5,000 persons were evacuated from the path of the 35,000-acre holocaust. Lucille Fegel, 67, was killed during the evacuation when she was struck by an unoccupied car rolling down a hill.

Officials closed 40 public and private schools in Orange County Monday, releasing 30,000 students.

In San Diego County to the south, three fires blackened 55,000 acres and destroyed at least 26 buildings. One blaze charred 35,000 acres in a 15-mile strip between Romona and Poway, destroying a dozen homes valued at up to $50,000 each.

Another San Diego County fire near Julian blackened 20,000 acres and several homes. A third fire, estimated at more than 200 acres, was started by sparks from the Julian blaze.

Sixteen structures, including five homes, were destroyed by a 35,000-acre firestorm in Riverside County.

In Los Angeles County, a 2,000-acre fire between two canyons in the Santa Monica mountains just northwest of Malibu destroyed two homes. A 650-acre fire in Topanga Canyon between Malibu and Los Angeles was reported contained with no structural damage or injuries.

A 150-acre blaze in Ventura County between Ojai and Santa Paula was reported under control.

An 800-cre fire began in Los Angeles County about 10 miles southwest of Pomona and spread east into San Bernardino County.

Two weeks ago more than 50,000 acres and 60 structures were destroyed by fires which swept through the mountains northwest of Los Angeles.

The size and ferocity of both the present fires and those two weeks ago were attributed by fire officials to high, gusting winds.

Court's Hearing Clears The Way For Auction Sale

LISBON — A hearing Monday in Probate Court opened the way for an auction sale of the personal property of Mrs. Hattie Snyder, 94, of the Columbiana County Home.

The property has been at the home since the former East Palestine resident was admitted as a patient.

Robert Boyce, superintendent, and Mrs. Snyder's guardian, filed a request with the court for permission to sell the property and furnished an inventory. County Commissioner James W. Boyd entered the case, claiming Boyce had not properly accounted for the property.

A court - ordered special inventory by an auctioneer and and an antique dealer noted "36 items which had been marked 'destroyed by fire' are still at the home," and listed 13 articles not listed on the original inventory."

Boyd was given an opportunity to file an amended inventory. Both sides yesterday indicated they are satisfied with the amended inventory and the court ordered the guardian to advertise an auction sale at the County Home and to make a return to the court after the sale.

Police said Thomas Altamura was cut down as he walked into the Place for Steak Restaurant in the causeway city between Miami and Miami Beach.

A short time later, a sheriff's department spokesman said Anhony "Big Tony" Esperti surrendered himself to detectives at a Miami street corner in connection with the shooting Esperti was in the company of an attorney.

Altamura, 53, had been called before numerous grand juries during the last 10 years in connection with gambling, labor racketeering, narcotics and contract murders.

Detectives said Esperti followed Altamura into the lobby of the eating place and blazed away five times with a .38-caliber pistol.

"Witnesses said there wasn't even an exchange of words between them," an officer said.

Altamura was hit twice in the head. One bullet plowed through an upthrown hand and into his neck.

Police said Esperti, 37, was the apparent target of a bomb which exploded in a Miami nightclub Sept. 23. He was uninjured. Authorities said Esperti has a record of arrests on charges of armed robbery and extortion.

Court's Hearing Clears The Way For Auction Sale

LISBON — A hearing Monday in Probate Court opened the way for an auction sale of the personal property of Mrs. Hattie Snyder, 94, of the Columbiana County Home.

The property has been at the home since the former East Palestine resident was admitted as a patient.

Robert Boyce, superintendent, and Mrs. Snyder's guardian, filed a request with the court for permission to sell the property and furnished an inventory. County Commissioner James W. Boyd entered the case, claiming Boyce had not properly accounted for the property.

A court - ordered special inventory by an auctioneer and and an antique dealer noted "36 items which had been marked 'destroyed by fire' are still at the home," and listed 13 articles not listed on the original inventory."

Boyd was given an opportunity to file an amended inventory. Both sides yesterday indicated they are satisfied with the amended inventory and the court ordered the guardian to advertise an auction sale at the County Home and to make a return to the court after the sale.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 15-year-old boy with a problem that's getting me down. I don't seem to fit into any group and I can't make friends. I'm shy and self-consious, and I can't keep a conversation going even when somebody else starts it.

When I look around and see the other guys clowning and enjoying themselves I try to imitate them but I feel like a jackass. It seems to come so easy to them. I die trying and fall on my face.

I want to make friends so bad it just about kills me. Please print my letter and tell kids all over that just because a guy is quiet doesn't mean he is snobbish or antisocial or dumb. Sometimes it means he's scared or that he doesn't know what to say and he is really dying inside — A FREAK IN THE CROWD.

Dear Friend: If you think you're a freak I have news for you. There are thousands of teen-agers (and adults, too) who share your feelings of inadequacy and loneliness.

To you shy ones I say, don't knock quietness. It can be an attractive quality compared with a lot of the garbage that passes for social conversation. Better to remain silent and be thought a fool than to open your mouth and remove all doubt.

Important Breakfast

Dear Ann: My kids are 11 and 13. They don't listen to me but they do listen to you, so please print this letter.

I can't seem to get my children to eat breakfast. No matter what I fix they're "not hungry" or they'd rather sleep an extra 15 minutes.

My husband is the same way. I don't know if they got it from him or if he got it from them. Please tell everybody that breakfast is a very important meal. Thank you. — NOT LISTENED TO.

Dear Not: For the kids: An engine can't run without fuel. You need breakfast to get you going in the morning. It's dumb to rush out of the house without stoking up.

The husbands: Breakfast is the most important meal of the day for you, too. If you aren't home by then you're in plenty of trouble.

No Whistles, Please

Dear Ann: My sister's husband was born in Europe. He bores everyone to tears with his often-repeated stories of how much better it was "over there."

This brother-in-law has many irritating traits which I abhor, but the thing that makes me cringe is the way he calls a waiter when we're dining out. He snaps his fingers, whistles, hisses and claps his hands as if he were summoning a coolie.

Recently I told him such antics made me uncomfortable, and that waiters resent it and give him poor service in retaliation.

I was called an ignorant clod, a peasant and a few other names which I wouldn't write and you couldn't print. Please tell me who's right. — AMERICAN BOOB.

Dear American: Hissing, finger-snapping, clapping and whistling may be considered good form in some countries but in the U.S. such behavior is boorish.

In this country one raises his hand to attract the attention of a waiter. At times it seems like there ought to be a more effective technique, which no doubt was the sentiment of the wit who had inscribed on the tombstone of his uncle, a waiter, "God finally caught his eye."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GM Names Cole As New Head Of Firm

DETROIT (AP) — Back in 1914, 5-year-old Ed Cole climbed into a 1908 Buick on his father's farm in Marne, Mich., released the handbrake and sent the car rolling into a tree.

The damage was slight, and the scolding the curious kid got didn't dampen his enthusiasm for the horseless carriage.

Cole's election climaxed a GM career that began in 1929 when he enrolled in the General Motors Institte at Flint, Mich., under sponsorship of the corporation's Cadillac division. The job into which he steps paid James M. Roche, the new chairman, $730,000 in salary and bonuses last year.

Like Roche before him, Cole carries no college diploma into the president's office. Roche's education came via correspondence courses. Cole's ended at General Motors Institute when Cadillac called him out before graduation and assigned him to a special engineering projec..

Known as an engineering genius, Cole personally was responsible for the basic design concept of the Chevrolet Corvair, a light-weight, rear-engine car.

He is genial and articulate and is known about the GM building in Detroit as a man who has a cheery "hello" for everyone, including the elevator operators and the cleaning crews that dust up at night.

A vice president since 1956, when he was named general manager of the Chevrolet division, Cole had been an executive vice president since 1965 with jurisdiction over all the general satff activities of the corporation.

Cole spent his boyhood on his father's farm, milking cows and delivering milk before school. While still in his teens, he sold tractors during summer vacations by driving them around the countryside and giving on-the-spot demonstrations.

It was the ambition of his parents that he became a lawyer and he entered Grand Rapids Junior College. But a summer vacation job with the Hayes Body Corp., then an automotive supplier, turned him back irrevocably to his first love—cars.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: This may surprise you, but I just learned recently never to throw away leftover pancake batter. I now put it in a little covered bowl in my refrigerator.

The next morning I add a bit of milk to it and use it to make French toast!

It's quick, it's easy and it's good.

MRS. C. H. D.

Folks, this works like a charm. Why it fills the bread and keeps it from being greasy, I'll never know. But it sure makes a different kind of French toast.

After trying it, I experimented by adding cinnamon to the leftover batter before adding the milk. I than had cinnamon French toast. Delish!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I mend a triangular tear in a sheet, I find that most times they pucker and usually pull out. But I finally figured out a way to do it.

I work a dainty buttonhole stitch around all of the torn edges and then just whip them together, catching through the stitches instead of the material itself. It sure makes a lovely, as well as lasting, repair job.

MRS. R. DANIELS.

GINNIE C.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought towels in colors to match my kitchen, folded them in half, sewed the sides together and slipped them over our kitchen chairbacks.

They are easily washed, require no ironing, and keep the wooden backs of the chairs from being scratched by zippers and buttons. Also they lend a fresh and decorative appearance to the eating area.

NRS. CALLAHAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I've found a wonderful space stretcher for closets. I use a child's closet rod which has a wire on each end that extends up to the large rod for handing. And it's low enough for a child to use.

This small rod allows enough room on one side of the closet for ladies dresses and blouses to be hung from the higher rod. Folded slacks, skirts and shorter garments are hung on the small lower rod and on the regular rod just above it.

The space saving is being able to hang two rows of short garments where only one row hung before.

BETTY.

DEAR HELOISE: I use to be furious when my husband's aerosol shaving can made ugly rust stains on our white bathroom counter. Finally I found that the container's plastic cap fits snugly on the bottom of the can.

Now the counter remains clean all the time.

BARBARA SCHULTZ.

DEAR HELOISE: To cover my basement windows, I placed paper doilies flat against each window, dabbing a little paste on the four corners. As a result, my windows have the appearance of starched lace curtains.

So pretty, and so economical, too.

MARIE BERARDINO.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't despair when the weather is humid, and your postage stamps become sticky.

Just pat the glued side with a puff of powder. They will stay dry for a month or longer. And when you moisten a stamp, it's sticky again!

MILDRED GEARHART.

DEAR HELOISE: When you turn down a skirt waistband to make the skirt shorter, turn the belt inside towards your body instead of turning it over on the outside. The result is much neater. No puckers or bulges show.

I can't seem to get my children to eat breakfast. No matter what I fix they're "not hungry" or they'd rather sleep an extra 15 minutes.

My husband is the same way. I don't know if they got it from him or if he got it from them. Please tell everybody that breakfast is a very important meal. Thank you. — NOT LISTENED TO.

Dear Not: For the kids: An engine can't run without fuel. You need breakfast to get you going in the morning. It's dumb to rush out of the house without stoking up.

The husbands: Breakfast is the most important meal of the day for you, too. If you aren't home by then you're in plenty of trouble.

No Whistles, Please

Dear Ann: My sister's husband was born in Europe. He bores everyone to tears with his often-repeated stories of how much better it was "over there."

This brother-in-law has many irritating traits which I abhor, but the thing that makes me cringe is the way he calls a waiter when we're dining out. He snaps his fingers, whistles, hisses and claps his hands as if he were summoning a coolie.

Recently I told him such antics made me uncomfortable, and that waiters resent it and give him poor service in retaliation.

I was called an ignorant clod, a peasant and a few other names which I wouldn't write and you couldn't print. Please tell me who's right. — AMERICAN BOOB.

Dear American: Hissing, finger-snapping, clapping and whistling may be considered good form in some countries but in the U.S. such behavior is boorish.

In this country one raises his hand to attract the attention of a waiter. At times it seems like there ought to be a more effective technique, which no doubt was the sentiment of the wit who had inscribed on the tombstone of his uncle, a waiter, "God finally caught his eye."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GM Names Cole As New Head Of Firm

DETROIT (AP) — Back in 1914, 5-year-old Ed Cole climbed into a 1908 Buick on his father's farm in Marne, Mich., released the handbrake and sent the car rolling into a tree.

The damage was slight, and the scolding the curious kid got didn't dampen his enthusiasm for the horseless carriage.

Cole's election climaxed a GM career that began in 1929 when he enrolled in the General Motors Institte at Flint, Mich., under sponsorship of the corporation's Cadillac division. The job into which he steps paid James M. Roche, the new chairman, $730,000 in salary and bonuses last year.

Like Roche before him, Cole carries no college diploma into the president's office. Roche's education came via correspondence courses. Cole's ended at General Motors Institute when Cadillac called him out before graduation and assigned him to a special engineering projec..

Known as an engineering genius, Cole personally was responsible for the basic design concept of the Chevrolet Corvair, a light-weight, rear-engine car.

He is genial and articulate and is known about the GM building in Detroit as a man who has a cheery "hello" for everyone, including the elevator operators and the cleaning crews that dust up at night.

A vice president since 1956, when he was named general manager of the Chevrolet division, Cole had been an executive vice president since 1965 with jurisdiction over all the general satff activities of the corporation.

Cole spent his boyhood on his father's farm, milking cows and delivering milk before school. While still in his teens, he sold tractors during summer vacations by driving them around the countryside and giving on-the-spot demonstrations.

It was the ambition of his parents that he became a lawyer and he entered Grand Rapids Junior College. But a summer vacation job with the Hayes Body Corp., then an automotive supplier, turned him back irrevocably to his first love—cars.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: This may surprise you, but I just learned recently never to throw away leftover pancake batter. I now put it in a little covered bowl in my refrigerator.

The next morning I add a bit of milk to it and use it to make French toast!

It's quick, it's easy and it's good.

MRS. C. H. D.

Folks, this works like a charm. Why it fills the bread and keeps it from being greasy, I'll never know. But it sure makes a different kind of French toast.

After trying it, I experimented by adding cinnamon to the leftover batter before adding the milk. I than had cinnamon French toast. Delish!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I mend a triangular tear in a sheet, I find that most times they pucker and usually pull out. But I finally figured out a way to do it.

I work a dainty buttonhole stitch around all of the torn edges and then just whip them together, catching through the stitches instead of the material itself. It sure makes a lovely, as well as lasting, repair job.

MRS. R. DANIELS.

GINNIE C.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought towels in colors to match my kitchen, folded them in half, sewed the sides together and slipped them over our kitchen chairbacks.

They are easily washed, require no ironing, and keep the wooden backs of the chairs from being scratched by zippers and buttons. Also they lend a fresh and decorative appearance to the eating area.

NRS. CALLAHAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I've found a wonderful space stretcher for closets. I use a child's closet rod which has a wire on each end that extends up to the large rod for handing. And it's low enough for a child to use.

This small rod allows enough room on one side of the closet for ladies dresses and blouses to be hung from the higher rod. Folded slacks, skirts and shorter garments are hung on the small lower rod and on the regular rod just above it.

The space saving is being able to hang two rows of short garments where only one row hung before.

BETTY.

DEAR HELOISE: I use to be furious when my husband's aerosol shaving can made ugly rust stains on our white bathroom counter. Finally I found that the container's plastic cap fits snugly on the bottom of the can.

Now the counter remains clean all the time.

BARBARA SCHULTZ

DEAR HELOISE: To cover my basement windows, I placed paper doilies flat against each window, dabbing a little paste on the four corners. As a result, my windows have the appearance of starched lace curtains.

So pretty, and so economical, too.

MARIE BERARDINO.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't despair when the weather is humid, and your postage stamps become sticky.

Just pat the glued side with a puff of powder. They will stay dry for a month or longer. And when you moisten a stamp, it's sticky again!

MILDRED GEARHART.

DEAR HELOISE: When you turn down a skirt waistband to make the skirt shorter, turn the belt inside towards your body instead of turning it over on the outside.

The result is much neater. No puckers or bulges show.

MRS. DONALD WEBSTER.

Another Charge To Face Suspect In Check Frauds

A man who appeared in Municipal Court last week on two fraudulent check charges returned to face Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning and found that a third count had been filed against him.

George Deem Jr., who gave authorities two addresses in Wellsville and another in Glenmoor, was charged initially with passing a $50 check Oct. 18 at the Smith & Phillips Co. store on Washington St. and another for $50 at the Tri-State Appliance Co. store on Market St. on Oct. 16.

This morning he was confronted with a third affidavit alleging he cashed a $35 check on Sept. 29 at the Kiddie Korner store on E. 5th St. The affidavit was signed by Jack Steinberg, the proprietor.

James L. McSweeney of Wellsville, Deem's court - appointed counsel, requested a continuance to confer with his client. Judge Chertoff set a hearing Nov. 9 and continued the defendant's $2,250 bond. Each charge alleges he presented checks drawn on the First National Bank "with intent to defraud" because he had insufficient funds to his credit at the bank.

Court authorities said a bonding company which posted a surety for Deem listed his address as 1146 Riverside Ave., Wellsville. He also had been listed previously at an address on Broadway, Wellsville, and in Glenmoor.

Another Charge To Face Suspect In Check Frauds

A man who appeared in Municipal Court last week on two fraudulent check charges returned to face Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning and found that a third count had been filed against him.

George Deem Jr., who gave authorities two addresses in Wellsville and another in Glenmoor, was charged initially with passing a $50 check Oct. 18 at the Smith & Phillips Co. store on Washington St. and another for $50 at the Tri-State Appliance Co. store on Market St. on Oct. 16.

This morning he was confronted with a third affidavit alleging he cashed a $35 check on Sept. 29 at the Kiddie Korner store on E. 5th St. The affidavit was signed by Jack Steinberg, the proprietor.

James L. McSweeney of Wellsville, Deem's court - appointed counsel, requested a continuance to confer with his client. Judge Chertoff set a hearing Nov. 9 and continued the defendant's $2,250 bond. Each charge alleges he presented checks drawn on the First National Bank "with intent to defraud" because he had insufficient funds to his credit at the bank.

Court authorities said a bonding company which posted a surety for Deem listed his address as 1146 Riverside Ave., Wellsville. He also had been listed previously at an address on Broadway, Wellsville, and in Glenmoor.

It's quite a surprise to pick up the paper and see mentioned someone whom you knew some time ago and hadn't heard of since, especially if that someone is playing sports in a major professional league.

Friday's Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, in talking about that night's game between the Pittsburgh Pipers and the Denver Rockets, mentioned that Willie Thomas was one of the Rocket stars. Willie was in my company in the Army in Germany in 1962-63 and played on the battalion team that won the European championship.

The strange thing about this was that Willie had been separated from the active Army, but stayed on to help the team, with the provision that the coach, a captain, would help him get into college. Willie went to Los Angeles State, and four years later here he is in the pros. He scored 16 against the Pipers in a losing effort.

One of my memories of Willie has to do not with his playing, but his refereeing. I played on the company team, a level of competition quite below that to which Willie was accustomed, and Willie refereed our game one night. He allowed one of the opposing players to go into the game without reporting to the scorers' bench table, which upset our team quite a bit. Willie was a much better player than referee.

THE SPORTING NEWS National League All-Star team, selected by the players, didn't leave off Bill Mazeroski and Gene Alley of the Pirates, as the wire service polls did. Roberto Clemente also made the Sporting News team. Mazeroski is such a good fielder he makes routine plays out of balls other second-basemen wouldn't get to, which is why he is sometimes overlooked.

JACK SANFORD, new pitching coach of the Indians, takes an optimistic outlook. He says that Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert, Steve Hargan and Luis Tiant could all win 20 games next year.

THE COLLEGE FOOTBALL All-America check list arrived yesterday, and if you think you have trouble making a decision, take a look at the halfback candidates (including flanker backs.) Which two do you choose out of O. J. Simpson, Dennis Homan, Leroy Keyes, Jim Kiick, Greg Jones, Larry Smith, Jerry Levias, Warren McVea, Wilmer Cooks, Dick Conley and Don Fitzgerald? The linemen choices are also hard, because few are anybody you've ever heard of.

THINGS WERE clarified in the WPIAL title chase over the weekend, as three of the six contenders were beaten and thus eliminated. Ellwood City, Monessen and Kiski Area fell by the wayside, leaving New Castle, Mt. Lebanon and Butler in the running. Butler is at New Castle Friday night, so one more team will be knocked out.

UNBEATEN Waynesburg, the top small college football team in the country, according to one poll, has tougher going from now on. The Yellow Jackets have two unbeaten teams left to close the schedule, Fairmont (W. Va.) St. and Westminster. Fairmont is fourth in offense and fifth in defense among NAIA schools. Waynesburg is tops offensively and Westminster second defensively, behind Bethany (W. Va.). Glenville St. (W. Va.) is third on defense and Ashland (Ohio) seventh.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Steubenville and Upper Arlington head into the season's homestretch still 1-2 in the Associated Press' weekly high school football ratings.

The Big Red protected their first place lead last Friday with a convincing 32-19 decision over Weirton, West Virginia's second-ranked scholastic power.

Coach Abe Bryan's club collected 186 points, eight more than Arlington's Golden Bears, who kept the pressure on with a 76-0 romp over Worthington.

And title conscious Cincinnati Roger Bacon stayed in contention by pounding Fort Wayne Bishop Luers, 34-0. The Queen City school holds third place on 154 points.

The top three leaders all boast perfect 8-0 records but Steubenville risks its unblemished mark and its lofty position Friday in a home skirmish against No. 4 Massillon (7-1).

The Tigers knocked the Big Red out of championship consideration last year by upsetting Steubenville.

Dover (8-0) is fifth followed by Shelby (8-0), Sandusky (7-1), Circleville (8-0), Toledo St. Francis (6-1) and newcomer Cincinnati Princeton (6-1-1).

The biggest surprise last weekend was Alliance's 20-14 triumph over Canton McKinley that knocked the Bulldogs from fourth to 16th place.

In Class A, Versailles clung to the top spot in the small school division but runnerup Portsmouth Notre Dame closed the gap to 12 points.

Both remained unbeaten with impressive weekend victories. Norwalk St. Paul moved up to third as Dixie dropped to fourth.

Packers Rally To Top Cards 31-23

By BEN BROWN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Green Bay won the football game, but St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart made believers of the Packers.

The world champion Packers used two fourth-quarter touchdowns to overcome a brilliant performance by the 23-year-old Hart and whipped the Cardinals 31-23 Monday night in a National Football League game.

Green Bay turned an intercepted pass and a 93-yard kickoff return into touchdowns to offset Hart's performance. The young quarterback passed for two touchdowns and completed 16 of 29 passes for 317 yards.

Bart Starr, the veteran Packers' quarterback, connected on 11 of 26 for 117 yards and one touchdown.

"He has a great touch," Starr said of Hart. And he added, "He also has a great sense of timing and a great deal of poise."

Some of the Packers had indicated that perhaps Hart had been lucky in earlier games. But, Pitts added, "You can't get by that long on luck. He's a terrific ballplayer."

The victory gave Green Bay a 5-1-1 record and the lead in the Western Conference's Central Division. St. Louis dropped to 4-3 and a three-way tie with New York and Cleveland for the lead in the Eastern Conference's Century Division.

Teammates Thurmond, King Top NBA Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim King and Nate Thurmond, short and tall trigger-men in the San Francisco Warriors' attack, dominate the National Basketball Association's early-season individual races.

King, a 6-foot-2 backcourt flash, and 6-11 Thurmond are running 1-2 in scoring, according to weekly NBA figures released today. In addition, King is among the top 10 in field goal and free throws percentage and assists while Thurmond is the league's top rebounder.

King and Thurmond have poured in 244 and 229 points, respectively, leading the Warriors to a 6-4 getaway. Bob Boozer of Chicago is the No. 3 scorer with 196 points in eight starts, followed by St. Louis' Joe Caldwell with 194 in nine games.

Boozer is the most accurate shooter from the floor with a .573 percentage. King is No. 10 with a .495 mark.

The San Francisco sparkplug ranks third among the free throw leaders, having converted 56 of 65 attempts from the line. San Diego's Jim McGlocklin, 26 for 29, and Seattle's Tom Meschery, 21 for 24, are the leaders.

St. Louis' Len Wilkens tops the playmakers with 73 assists. Guy Rodgers and Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's dandy backcourt combination, have 66 and 61 feeds, respectively, and King is fourth with 49.

White Sox Schedule 10 Games In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — There will be 10 nights of major league baseball in Milwaukee next season, and a Milwaukee group says it has new hope for a more permanent arrangement after that.

Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn announced Monday his American League team will play nine regular season games at Milwaukee County Stadium and one exhibition contest against the National League Chicago Cubs next year.

The exhibition is scheduled for April 5, Allyn said, and tentative schedules for the league games call for at least two games each month between May and August. The regular season games will pit the Sox against each of the other clubs in the American League once.

Allyn said the arrangement was designed to develop a continuing program in Milwaukee as a "tieup with our television program." He said he had no intention of moving his franchise to Milwaukee at any time. The Sox plan to televise 140 of their games to Milwaukee.

The games here will be sponsored by the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc., under a private arrangement with the White Sox.

The Brewers, a citizen's group, has been seeking to bring major league baseball back to Milwaukee since the Braves departed for Atlanta after the 1965 seson.

Fran Tarkenton Admired By Losing Brown Team

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Fran Tarkenton Admiration Society has a new member—Paul Wiggin, the big bear of a man who plays defensive left end for the Cleveland Browns.

"We practiced all week with people taking the role of Tarkenton," Wiggin said Monday at the Pro Quarterback Club. "But there is no Tarkenton like Tarkenton himself.

"Any time a man can make a complete circle in one spot while 2,000 pounds of bodies stand and watch he has to be something. You always know he's got something up his sleeve."

Far from being disheartened by the 38-34 National Football League defeat at the hands of the New York Giants Sunday, Wiggin said the current Browns club was "the most spirited and the best club I have ever been on."

Wiggin scoffed at reports about the Giants' good luck in the game.

"It was a real dog fight," he said. "And if you don't believe it, you should have seen me trying to get out of bed this morning.

"Luck does not block punts. Fumbles generally are caused by aggressive defense. They are recovered by alertness. I think it was Darrell Royal (Texas coach) who said 'luck is when preparation meets with opportunity'.

"We tried to rush Tarkenton. I told a writter the only way to get him is wait until he comes back the second time. That's what did Sunday.

Hawkins Fouls Out, Pipers Lose 128-99

By The Associated Press

Dan Anderson watched his New Jersey teammates battle the Kentucky Colonels on even terms for little more than one period, and then he got off the bench to remedy the situation.

The 6-foot-10 center entered the game with 10:36 remaining in the second quarter, broke a 32-32 tie by making a foul shot. Anderson went on to score 10 more points and grab 12 rebounds as the Americans built up a 59-50 halftime lead en route to a 114-101 American Basketball Association game victory.

In the only other ABA game, New Orleans whipped Pittsburgh 128-99 at Memphis, Tenn. There were no National Basketball Association games.

John Austin led New Jersey scorers with 21 points. Walt Simon added 18, and Anderson finished with 16 points and 17 rebounds. Darel Carrier scored 26 for the Colonels.

The New Orleans-Pittsburgh game was delayed an hour and 20 minutes because of a power failure with 6:23 left to go in the second period. At that point, New Orleans led 43-21.

When the lights went back on, Pittsburgh rallied and cut the deficit to 60-54 with nine minutes to play in the third quarter. Connie Hawkins, the Pipers' top scorer with 20 points, then fouled out and New Orleans pulled away.

Doug Moe led the Buccaneers with 31 points, including 12 late in the third period as New Orleans built a 20-point lead.

Both remained unbeaten with impressive weekend victories. Norwalk St. Paul moved up to third as Dixie dropped to fourth.

Packers Rally To Top Cards 31-23

By BEN BROWN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Green Bay won the football game, but St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart made believers of the Packers.

The world champion Packers used two fourth-quarter touchdowns to overcome a brilliant performance by the 23-year-old Hart and whipped the Cardinals 31-23 Monday night in a National Football League game.

A capacity crowd of 49,792 sat in on the game, which was televised nationally.

Green Bay turned an intercepted pass and a 93-yard kickoff return into touchdowns to offset Hart's performance. The young quarterback passed for two touchdowns and completed 16 of 29 passes for 317 yards.

Bart Starr, the veteran Packers' quarterback, connected on 11 of 26 for 117 yards and one touchdown.

"He has a great touch," Starr said of Hart. And he added, "He also has a great sense of timing and a great deal of poise."

Some of the Packers had indicated that perhaps Hart had been lucky in earlier games. But, Pitts added, "You can't get by that long on luck. He's a terrific ballplayer."

The victory gave Green Bay a 5-1-1 record and the lead in the Western Conference's Central Division. St. Louis dropped to 4-3 and a three-way tie with New York and Cleveland for the lead in the Eastern Conference's Century Division.

Teammates Thurmond, King Top NBA Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim King and Nate Thurmond, short and tall trigger-men in the San Francisco Warriors' attack, dominate the National Basketball Association's early-season individual races.

King, a 6-foot-2 backcourt flash, and 6-11 Thurmond are running 1-2 in scoring, according to weekly NBA figures released today. In addition, King is among the top 10 in field goal and free throws percentage and assists while Thurmond is the league's top rebounder.

King and Thurmond have poured in 244 and 229 points, respectively, leading the Warriors to a 6-4 getaway. Bob Boozer of Chicago is the No. 3 scorer with 196 points in eight starts, followed by St. Louis' Joe Caldwell with 194 in nine games.

Boozer is the most accurate shooter from the floor with a .573 percentage. King is No. 10 with a .495 mark.

The San Francisco sparkplug ranks third among the free throw leaders, having converted 56 of 65 attempts from the line. San Diego's Jim McGlocklin, 26 for 29, and Seattle's Tom Meschery, 21 for 24, are the leaders.

St. Louis' Len Wilkens tops the playmakers with 73 assists. Guy Rodgers and Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's dandy backcourt combination, have 66 and 61 feeds, respectively, and King is fourth with 49.

White Sox Schedule 10 Games In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — There will be 10 nights of major league baseball in Milwaukee next season, and a Milwaukee group says it has new hope for a more permanent arrangement after that.

Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn announced Monday his American League team will play nine regular season games at Milwaukee County Stadium and one exhibition contest against the National League Chicago Cubs next year.

The exhibition is scheduled for April 5, Allyn said, and tentative schedules for the league games call for at least two games each month between May and August. The regular season games will pit the Sox against each of the other clubs in the American League once.

Allyn said the arrangement was designed to develop a continuing program in Milwaukee as a "tieup with our television program." He said he had no intention of moving his franchise to Milwaukee at any time. The Sox plan to televise 140 of their games to Milwaukee.

The games here will be sponsored by the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc., under a private arrangement with the White Sox.

The Brewers, a citizen's group, has been seeking to bring major league baseball back to Milwaukee since the Braves departed for Atlanta after the 1965 seson.

Fran Tarkenton Admired By Losing Brown Team

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Fran Tarkenton Admiration Society has a new member—Paul Wiggin, the big bear of a man who plays defensive left end for the Cleveland Browns.

"We practiced all week with people taking the role of Tarkenton," Wiggin said Monday at the Pro Quarterback Club. "But there is no Tarkenton like Tarkenton himself.

"Any time a man can make a complete circle in one spot while 2,000 pounds of bodies stand and watch he has to be something. You always know he's got something up his sleeve."

Far from being disheartened by the 38-34 National Football League defeat at the hands of the New York Giants Sunday, Wiggin said the current Browns club was "the most spirited and the best club I have ever been on."

Wiggin scoffed at reports about the Giants' good luck in the game.

"It was a real dog fight," he said. "And if you don't believe it, you should have seen me trying to get out of bed this morning.

"Luck does not block punts. Fumbles generally are caused by aggressive defense. They are recovered by altertness. I think it was Darrell Royal (Texas coach) who said 'luck is when preparation meets with opportunity'.

"We tried to rush Tarkenton. I told a writter the only way to get him is wait until he comes back the second time. That's what did Sunday.

Hawkins Fouls Out, Pipers Lose 128-99

By The Associated Press

Dan Anderson watched his New Jersey teammates battle the Kentucky Colonels on even terms for little more than one period, and then he got off the bench to remedy the situation.

The 6-foot-10 center entered the game with 10:36 remaining in the second quarter, broke a 32-32 tie by making a foul shot. Anderson went on to score 19 more points and grab 12 rebounds as the Americans built up a 59-50 halftime lead en route to a 114-101 American Basketball Association game victory.

In the only other ABA game, New Orleans whipped Pittsburgh 128-99 at Memphis, Tenn. There were no National Basketball Association games.

John Austin led New Jersey scorers with 21 points. Walt Simon added 18, and Anderson finished with 16 points and 17 rebounds. Darel Carrier scored 26 for the Colonels.

The New Orleans-Pittsburgh game was delayed an hour and 20 minutes because of a power failure with 6:23 left to go in the second period. At that point, New Orleans led 43-21.

When the lights went back on, Pittsburgh rallied and cut the deficit to 60-54 with nine minutes to play in the third quarter. Connie Hawkins, the Pipers' top scorer with 20 points, then fouled out and New Orleans pulled away.

Doug Moe led the Buccaneers with 31 points, including 12 late in the third period as New Orleans built a 20-point lead.

Another Charge To Face Suspect In Check Frauds

A man who appeared in Municipal Court last week on two fraudulent check charges returned to face Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning and found that a third count had been filed against him.

George Deem Jr., who gave authorities two addresses in Wellsville and another in Glenmoor, was charged initially with passing a $50 check Oct. 18 at the Smith & Phillips Co. store on Washington St. and another for $50 at the Tri-State Appliance Co. store on Market St. on Oct. 16.

This morning he was confronted with a third affidavit alleging he cashed a $35 check on Sept. 29 at the Kiddie Korner store on E. 5th St. The affidavit was signed by Jack Steinberg, the proprietor.

James L. McSweeney of Wellsville, Deem's court - appointed counsel, requested a continuance to confer with his client. Judge Chertoff set a hearing Nov. 9 and continued the defendant's $2,250 bond. Each charge alleges he presented checks drawn on the First National Bank "with intent to defraud" because he had insufficient funds to his credit at the bank.

Court authorities said a bonding company which posted a surety for Deem listed his address as 1146 Riverside Ave., Wellsville. He also had been listed previously at an address on Broadway, Wellsville, and in Glenmoor.

Another Charge To Face Suspect In Check Frauds

A man who appeared in Municipal Court last week on two fraudulent check charges returned to face Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning and found that a third count had been filed against him.

George Deem Jr., who gave authorities two addresses in Wellsville and another in Glenmoor, was charged initially with passing a $50 check Oct. 18 at the Smith & Phillips Co. store on Washington St. and another for $50 at the Tri-State Appliance Co. store on Market St. on Oct. 16.

This morning he was confronted with a third affidavit alleging he cashed a $35 check on Sept. 29 at the Kiddie Korner store on E. 5th St. The affidavit was signed by Jack Steinberg, the proprietor.

James L. McSweeney of Wellsville, Deem's court - appointed counsel, requested a continuance to confer with his client. Judge Chertoff set a hearing Nov. 9 and continued the defendant's $2,250 bond. Each charge alleges he presented checks drawn on the First National Bank "with intent to defraud" because he had insufficient funds to his credit at the bank.

Court authorities said a bonding company which posted a surety for Deem listed his address as 1146 Riverside Ave., Wellsville. He also had been listed previously at an address on Broadway, Wellsville, and in Glenmoor.

It's quite a surprise to pick up the paper and see mentioned someone whom you knew some time ago and hadn't heard of since, especially if that someone is playing sports in a major professional league.

Friday's Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, in talking about that night's game between the Pittsburgh Pipers and the Denver Rockets, mentioned that Willie Thomas was one of the Rocket stars. Willie was in my company in the Army in Germany in 1962-63 and played on the battalion team that won the European championship.

The strange thing about this was that Willie had been separated from the active Army, but stayed on to help the team, with the provision that the coach, a captain, would help him get into college. Willie went to Los Angeles State, and four years later here he is in the pros. He scored 16 against the Pipers in a losing effort.

One of my memories of Willie has to do not with his playing, but his refereeing. I played on the company team, a level of competition quite below that to which Willie was accustomed, and Willie refereed cur game one night. He allowed one of the opposing players to go into the game without reporting to the scorers' bench table, which upset our team quite a bit. Willie was a much better player than referee.

THE SPORTING NEWS National League All-Star team, selected by the players, didn't leave off Bill Mazeroski and Gene Alley of the Pirates, as the wire service polls did. Roberto Clemente also made the Sporting News team. Mazeroski is such a good fielder he makes routine plays out of balls other second-basemen wouldn't get to, which is why he is sometimes overlooked.

JACK SANFORD, new pitching coach of the Indians, takes an optimistic outlook. He says that Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert, Steve Hargan and Luis Tiant could all win 20 games next year.

THE COLLEGE FOOTBALL All-America check list arrived yesterday, and if you think you have trouble making a decision, take a look at the halfback candidates (including flanker backs.) Which two do you choose out of O. J. Simpson, Dennis Homan, Leroy Keyes, Jim Kiick, Greg Jones, Larry Smith, Jerry Levias, Warren McVea, Wilmer Cooks, Dick Conley and Don Fitzgerald? The linemen choices are also hard, because few are anybody you've ever heard of.

THINGS WERE clarified in the WPIAL title chase over the weekend, as three of the six contenders were beaten and thus eliminated. Ellwood City, Monessen and Kiski Area fell by the wayside, leaving New Castle, Mt. Lebanon and Butler in the running. Butler is at New Castle Friday night, so one more team will be knocked out.

UNBEATEN Waynesburg, the top small college football team in the country, according to one poll, has tougher going from now on. The Yellow Jackets have two unbeaten teams left to close the schedule, Fairmont (W. Va.) St. and Westminster. Fairmont is fourth in offense and fifth in defense among NAIA schools. Waynesburg is tops offensively and Westminster second defensively, behind Bethany (W. Va.). Glenville St. (W. Va.) is third on defense and Ashland (Ohio) seventh.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Steubenville and Upper Arlington head into the season's homestretch still 1-2 in the Associated Press' weekly high school football ratings.

The Big Red protected their first place lead last Friday with a convincing 32-19 decision over Weirton, West Virginia's second-ranked scholastic power.

Coach Abe Bryan's club collected 186 points, eight more than Arlington's Golden Bears, who kept the pressure on with a 76-0 romp over Worthington.

And title conscious Cincinnati Roger Bacon stayed in contention by pounding Fort Wayne Bishop Luers, 34-0. The Queen City school holds third place on 154 points.

The top three leaders all boast perfect 8-0 records but Steubenville risks its unblemished mark and its lofty position Friday in a home skirmish against No. 4 Massillon (7-1).

The Tigers knocked the Big Red out of championship consideration last year by upsetting Steubenville.

Dover (8-0) is fifth followed by Shelby (8-0), Sandusky (7-1), Circleville (8-0), Toledo St. Francis (6-1) and newcomer Cincinnati Princeton (6-1-1).

The biggest surprise last weekend was Alliance's 20-14 triumph over Canton McKinley that knocked the Bulldogs from fourth to 16th place.

In Class A, Versailles clung to the top spot in the small school division but runnerup Portsmouth Notre Dame closed the gap to 12 points.

Both remained unbeaten with impressive weekend victories. Norwalk St. Paul moved up to third as Dixie dropped to fourth.

Packers Rally To Top Cards 31-23

By BEN BROWN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Green Bay won the football game, but St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart made believers of the Packers.

The world champion Packers used two fourth-quarter touchdowns to overcome a brilliant performance by the 23-year-old Hart and whipped the Cardinals 31-23 Monday night in a National Football League game.

A capacity crowd of 49,792 sat in on the game, which was televised nationally.

Green Bay turned an intercepted pass and a 93-yard kickoff return into touchdowns to offset Hart's performance. The young quarterback passed for two touchdowns and completed 16 of 29 passes for 317 yards.

Bart Starr, the veteran Packers' quarterback, connected on 11 of 26 for 117 yards and one touchdown.

"He has a great touch," Starr said of Hart. And he added, "He also has a great sense of timing and a great deal of poise."

Some of the Packers had indicated that perhaps Hart had been lucky in earlier games. But, Pitts added, "You can't get by that long on luck. He's a terrific ballplayer."

The victory gave Green Bay a 5-1-1 record and the lead in the Western Conference's Central Division. St. Louis dropped to 4-3 and a three-way tie with New York and Cleveland for the lead in the Eastern Conference's Century Division.

Teammates Thurmond, King Top NBA Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim King and Nate Thurmond, short and tall trigger-men in the San Francisco Warriors' attack, dominate the National Basketball Association's early-season individual races.

King, a 6-foot-2 backcourt flash, and 6-11 Thurmond are running 1-2 in scoring, according to weekly NBA figures released today. In addition, King is among the top 10 in field goal and free throws percentage and assists while Thurmond is the league's top rebounder.

King and Thurmond have poured in 244 and 229 points, respectively, leading the Warriors to a 6-4 getaway. Bob Boozer of Chicago is the No. 3 scorer with 196 points in eight starts, followed by St. Louis' Joe Caldwell with 194 in nine games.

The San Francisco sparkplug ranks third among the free throw leaders, having converted 56 of 65 attempts from the line. San Diego's Jim McGlocklin, 26 for 29, and Seattle's Tom Meschery, 21 for 24, are the leaders.

St. Louis' Len Wilkens tops the playmakers with 73 assists. Guy Rodgers and Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's dandy backcourt combination, have 66 and 61 feeds, respectively, and King is fourth with 49.

White Sox Schedule 10 Games In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — There will be 10 nights of major league baseball in Milwaukee next season, and a Milwaukee group says it has new hope for a more permanent arrangement after that.

Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn announced Monday his American League team will play nine regular season games at Milwaukee County Stadium and one exhibition contest against the National League Chicago Cubs next year.

The exhibition is scheduled for April 5, Allyn said, and tentative schedules for the league games call for at least two games each month between May and August. The regular season games will pit the Sox against each of the other clubs in the American League once.

Allyn said the arrangement was designed to develop a continuing program in Milwaukee as a "tieup with our television program." He said he had no intention of moving his franchise to Milwaukee at any time. The Sox plan to televise 140 of their games to Milwaukee.

The games here will be sponsored by the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc., under a private arrangement with the White Sox.

The Brewers, a citizen's group, has been seeking to bring major league baseball back to Milwaukee since the Braves departed for Atlanta after the 1965 seson.

Fran Tarkenton Admired By Losing Brown Team

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Fran Tarkenton Admiration Society has a new member—Paul Wiggin, the big bear of a man who plays defensive left end for the Cleveland Browns.

"We practiced all week with people taking the role of Tarkenton," Wiggin said Monday at the Pro Quarterback Club. "But there is no Tarkenton like Tarkenton himself.

"Any time a man can make a complete circle in one spot while 2,000 pounds of bodies stand and watch he has to be something. You always know he's got something up his sleeve."

Far from being disheartened by the 38-34 National Football League defeat at the hands of the New York Giants Sunday, Wiggin said the current Browns club was "the most spirited and the best club I have ever been on."

Wiggin scoffed at reports about the Giants' good luck in the game.

"It was a real dog fight," he said. "And if you don't believe it, you should have seen me trying to get out of bed this morning.

"Luck does not block punts. Fumbles generally are caused by aggressive defense. They are recovered by alertness. I think it was Darrell Royal (Texas coach) who said 'luck is when preparation meets with opportunity'.

"We tried to rush Tarkenton. I told a writter the only way to get him is wait until he comes back the second time. That's what did Sunday.

Hawkins Fouls Out, Pipers Lose 128-99

By The Associated Press

Dan Anderson watched his New Jersey teammates battle the Kentucky Colonels on even terms for little more than one period, and then he got off the bench to remedy the situation.

The 6-foot-10 center entered the game with 10:36 remaining in the second quarter, broke a 32-32 tie by making a foul shot. Anderson went on to score 19 more points and grab 12 rebounds as the Americans built up a 59-50 halftime lead en route to a 114-101 American Basketball Association game victory.

In the only other ABA game, New Orleans whipped Pittsburgh 128-99 at Memphis, Tenn. There were no National Basketball Association games.

John Austin led New Jersey scorers with 21 points. Walt Simon added 18, and Anderson finished with 16 points and 17 rebounds. Darel Carrier scored 26 for the Colonels.

The New Orleans-Pittsburgh game was delayed an hour and 20 minutes because of a power failure with 6:23 left to go in the second period. At that point, New Orleans led 43-21.

When the lights went back on, Pittsburgh rallied and cut the deficit to 60-54 with nine minutes to play in the third quarter. Connie Hawkins, the Pipers' top scorer with 20 points, then fouled out and New Orleans pulled away.

Doug Moe led the Buccaneers with 31 points, including 12 late in the third period as New Orleans built a 20-point lead.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Steubenville and Upper Arlington head into the season's homestretch still 1-2 in the Associated Press' weekly high school football ratings.

The Big Red protected their first place lead last Friday with a convincing 32-19 decision over Weirton, West Virginia's second-ranked scholastic power.

Coach Abe Bryan's club collected 186 points, eight more than Arlington's Golden Bears, who kept the pressure on with a 76-0 romp over Worthington.

And title conscious Cincinnati Roger Bacon stayed in contention by pounding Fort Wayne Bishop Luers, 34-0. The Queen City school holds third place on 154 points.

The top three leaders all boast perfect 8-0 records but Steubenville risks its unblemished mark and its lofty position Friday in a home skirmish against No. 4 Massillon (7-1).

The Tigers knocked the Big Red out of championship consideration last year by upsetting Steubenville.

Dover (8-0) is fifth followed by Shelby (8-0), Sandusky (7-1), Circleville (8-0), Toledo St. Francis (6-1) and newcomer Cincinnati Princeton (6-1-1).

The biggest surprise last weekend was Alliance's 20-14 triumph over Canton McKinley that knocked the Bulldogs from fourth to 16th place.

In Class A, Versailles clung to the top spot in the small school division but runnerup Portsmouth Notre Dame closed the gap to 12 points.

Both remained unbeaten with impressive weekend victories. Norwalk St. Paul moved up to third as Dixie dropped to fourth.

Teammates Thurmond, King Top NBA Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim King and Nate Thurmond, short and tall trigger-men in the San Francisco Warriors' attack, dominate the National Basketball Association's early-season individual races.

King, a 6-foot-2 backcourt flash, and 6-11 Thurmond are running 1-2 in scoring, according to weekly NBA figures released today. In addition, King is among the top 10 in field goal and free throws percentage and assists while Thurmond is the league's top rebounder.

King and Thurmond have poured in 244 and 229 points, respectively, leading the Warriors to a 6-4 getaway. Bob Boozer of Chicago is the No. 3 scorer with 196 points in eight starts, followed by St. Louis' Joe Caldwell with 194 in nine games.

The San Francisco sparkplug ranks third among the free throw leaders, having converted 56 of 65 attempts from the line. San Diego's Jim McGlocklin, 26 for 29, and Seattle's Tom Meschery, 21 for 24, are the leaders.

St. Louis' Len Wilkens tops the playmakers with 73 assists. Guy Rodgers and Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's dandy backcourt combination, have 66 and 61 feeds, respectively, and King is fourth with 49.

Hawkins Fouls Out, Pipers Lose 128-99

By The Associated Press

Dan Anderson watched his New Jersey teammates battle the Kentucky Colonels on even terms for little more than one period, and then he got off the bench to remedy the situation.

The 6-foot-10 center entered the game with 10:36 remaining in the second quarter, broke a 32-32 tie by making a foul shot. Anderson went on to score 10 more points and grab 12 rebounds as the Americans built up a 59-50 halftime lead en route to a 114-101 American Basketball Association game victory.

In the only other ABA game, New Orleans whipped Pittsburgh 128-99 at Memphis, Tenn. There were no National Basketball Association games.

John Austin led New Jersey scorers with 21 points. Walt Simon added 18, and Anderson finished with 16 points and 17 rebounds. Darel Carrier scored 26 for the Colonels.

The New Orleans-Pittsburgh game was delayed an hour and 20 minutes because of a power failure with 6:23 left to go in the second period. At that point, New Orleans led 43-21.

When the lights went back on, Pittsburgh rallied and cut the deficit to 60-54 with nine minutes to play in the third quarter. Connie Hawkins, the Pipers' top scorer with 29 points, then fouled out and New Orleans pulled away.

Doug Moe led the Buccaneers with 31 points, including 12 late in the third period as New Orleans built a 20-point lead.

Packers Rally To Top Cards 31-23

By BEN BROWN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Green Bay won the football game, but St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart made believers of the Packers.

The world champion Packers used two fourth-quarter touchdowns to overcome a brilliant performance by the 23-year-old Hart and whipped the Cardinals 31-23 Monday night in a National Football League game.

Green Bay turned an intercepted pass and a 93-yard kickoff return into touchdowns to offset Hart's performance. The young quarterback passed for two touchdowns and completed 16 of 29 passes for 317 yards.

Bart Starr, the veteran Packers' quarterback, connected on 11 of 26 for 117 yards and one touchdown.

"He has a great touch," Starr said of Hart. And he added, "He also has a great sense of timing and a great deal of poise."

Some of the Packers had indicated that perhaps Hart had been lucky in earlier games. But, Pitts added, "You can't get by that long on luck. He's a terrific ballplayer."

The victory gave Green Bay a 5-1-1 record and the lead in the Western Conference's Central Division. St. Louis dropped to 4-3 and a three-way tie with New York and Cleveland for the lead in the Eastern Conference's Century Division.

White Sox Schedule 10 Games In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — There will be 10 nights of major league baseball in Milwaukee next season, and a Milwaukee group says it has new hope for a more permanent arrangement after that.

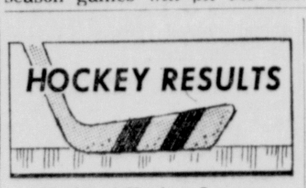

Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn announced Monday his American League team will play nine regular season games at Milwaukee County Stadium and one exhibition contest against the National League Chicago Cubs next year.

The exhibition is scheduled for April 5, Allyn said, and tentative schedules for the league games call for at least two games each month between May and August. The regular season games will pit the Sox against each of the other clubs in the American League once.

Allyn said the arrangement was designed to develop a continuing program in Milwaukee as a "tieup with our television program." He said he had no intention of moving his franchise to Milwaukee at any time. The Sox plan to televise 140 of their games to Milwaukee.

The games here will be sponsored by the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc., under a private arrangement with the White Sox.

The Brewers, a citizen's group, has been seeking to bring major league baseball back to Milwaukee since the Braves departed for Atlanta after the 1965 seson.

Fran Tarkenton Admired By Losing Brown Team

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Fran Tarkenton Admiration Society has a new member—Paul Wiggin, the big bear of a man who plays defensive left end for the Cleveland Browns.

"We practiced all week with people taking the role of Tarkenton," Wiggin said Monday at the Pro Quarterback Club. "But there is no Tarkenton like Tarkenton himself.

"Any time a man can make a complete circle in one spot while 2,000 pounds of bodies stand and watch he has to be something. You always know he's got something up his sleeve."

Far from being disheartened by the 38-34 National Football League defeat at the hands of the New York Giants Sunday, Wiggin said the current Browns club was "the most spirited and the best club I have ever been on."

Wiggin scoffed at reports about the Giants' good luck in the game.

"It was a real dog fight," he said. "And if you don't believe it, you should have seen me trying to get out of bed this morning.

"Luck does not block punts. Fumbles generally are caused by aggressive defense. They are recovered by alertness. I think it was Darrell Royal (Texas coach) who said 'luck is when preparation meets with opportunity'.

"We tried to rush Tarkenton. I told a writter the only way to get him is wait until he comes back the second time. That's what did Sunday.

World Series Shares Smaller Than Usual

The St. Louis Cardinals—baseball variety, not football—and the Boston Red Sox got the word Monday from Commissioner William D. Eckert's office on their winning World Series shares.

The seven-game victory was worth a mere $8,314.81 to each Cardinal and $5,115.23 for each losing Boston Red Sox.

Those are pale figures compared with recent World Series payoffs. The winning share was the smallest since the New York Yankees collected $7,389.13 for beating Cincinnati in 1961. And it was the smallest losing share since the 1952 Brooklyn Dodgers picked up $4,200.64 apiece.

The limited capacity of Boston's Fenway Park, which holds only 35,188, caused the small payoffs. But both the Cardinals and Red Sox were generous with the shares.

St. Louis gave pitcher Jack Lamabe, acquired from the New York Mets in July, a full share and also voted the full amount to pitcher Jim Cosman, who spent most of the season in the minors.

Boston awarded half shares to pitchers Dennis Bennett and Galen Cisco, both of whom were cut early, and a half share to catcher Elston Howard, picked up from New York in August. Ken Harrelson, picked up from Kansas City in September, was voted a one-third share.

The Red Sox also voted $1,000 to the Jimmy Fund, a local charity, and the same amount to Ken Brett, a young left-hander brought up late in the season.

Second place was worth $1,484.70 to each member of the San Francisco Giants while the Chicago Cubs received $1,080.88 for finishing third, the Cincinnati Reds $428.51 apiece for fourth place and the Philadelphia Phillies $197.18 for fifth place.

Detroit and Minnesota tied for second in the American League, with each Tiger picking up $1,268.68 and each Twin $1,171.33.

The Twins shut ex-manager Sam Mele out of a cut but awarded a full share to Mrs. Walter Bond, widow of the outfielderhwho spent the early part of the year with Minnesota and died of leukemia during the season.

Fourth place paid $428.51 to the Chicago White Sox and the California Angels got $180.99 each for fifth.

Commission Allows Races At Wheeling

CHARLESTON (AP)—The West Virginia Racing Commission announced yesterday it has approved a 41 - day horse race meeting starting Jan. 1 for Wheeling Downs Track, closed since December 1962.

Commission Chairman Joseph P. Condry made the announcement when he and the other two commissioners appeared before the Board of Public Works to present the Racing Commission budget request for the next fiscal year.

Condry said track owner James F. Edwards, also owner of Waterford Park, eventually plans to make Wheeling Downs a harness racing operation.

But the Jan. 1-Feb. 16 racing dates approved by the commission are for flat racing. Condry said a switch to harness racing would require legislative action to change the existing racing law.

Weirton Drops To 6th After Loss To Big Red

Charleston, Ceredo - Kenova and Marlinton remain leaders of their respective divisions in the Secondary Schools Activities Commission ratings after a weekend of convincing victories.

But there was some shuffling around further down the scale. Triple - A runner - up Weirton dropped to sixth place following a 19-32 loss to Ohio's top-ranked "big school," Steubenville.

Logan racked up its eighth victory of the season over Beckley Woodrow Wilson 37-26, but remains unranked while the SSAC awaits the outcome of a court dispute concerning the eligibility of star halfback Edward Lee.

Notre Dame Back To 10th

By The Associated Press

Ara Parseghian got his wish today, and Southern California got the No. 1 spot again in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Resting nine spots below the unbeaten Trojans, in 10th place, was Notre Dame, last year's national champion which had tumbled from the Top Ten by losing two of its first five games.

But the Irish defeated Michigan State 24-12 last Saturday and now are back among the elite, an achievement that makes Coach Parseghian happy.

Talking about the rankings after the Michigan State contest, Parseghian said:

"We have no conference championship to play for and no bowl game to shoot at. All we can do is get into the Top Ten rankings. That's our only goal, and the boys are doing a good job."

Southern California continues to do a good job, too. The Trojans won their seventh game by whipping Oregon 28-6 and were rewarded with all 43 first-place votes in the latest poll.

The Trojans' Los Angeles neighbor, UCLA, didn't play but had no trouble holding onto its No. 2 spot.

Colorado, one of the two Top Ten teams to lose last Saturday, skidded from third to ninth. Houston, the other loser, dropped from ninth to the also-ran group. Oklahoma State edged Colorado 10-7, and Mississippi nipped Houston 14-13.

The four teams behind Colorado last week each climbed one spot, but unbeaten Indiana made the biggest gain of all, rising from 10th to seventh after crushing Arizona 42-7 for its sixth victory.

Tennessee moved up to third, unbeaten North Carolina State to fourth, Georgia to fifth and Purdue to sixth. Wyoming remained No. 8.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1. Sou. Calif. (43)	430
2. UCLA	367
3. Tennessee	305
4. No. Carolina St.	288
5. Georgia	217
6. Purdue	206
7. Indiana	172
8. Wyoming	112
9. Colorado	86
10. Notre Dame	35

Nelsen Had Confidence In Making Comeback

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Knee-troubled quarterback Bill Nelsen of the Pittsburgh Steelers says he never feared regaining his job despite the brilliant fill-in performance of rookie Kent Nix.

"I've given it up before and gotten it back," said Nelsen, who came off the injured list Sunday and directed two fourth quarter touchdown drives that brought Pittsburgh a win over New Orleans.

"It isn't like starting all over again," he said. "You've been practicing all along and you know what's going on."

Nelsen, who limped off the field Sept. 24 with a torn muscle just above his left knee, came on in the final eight minutes of the game at the Sugar Bowl and completed five or six passes in the drives which covered 81 and 70 yards.

"Man, he was cool, cool, cool in the huddle," said Don Shy, who ran 33 yards for the winning touchdown with 1:52 left. "We were losing by all those points and he never even got excited. He ran the team like he knew all along we were going to win."

Nix, who came to the Steelers from Green Bay for a fourth draft choice, had risen to ninth in the National Football League passing statistics and set a Steeler record for completions in a game — 28 against Dallas. But he had his worst day Sunday—completing only eight of 20 passes for 68 yards and having four intercepted.

Charleston Smothers Ironmen 75-0

By The Associated Press

Continental Football League rushing leader Don Quillen scored three touchdowns and kicked an extra point as the Charleston Rockets routed Wheeling 75-0 in their second victory over the Ironmen this season.

Quillen carried the ball 31 times for 95 yards. He leads the team in scoring.

Other stars were quarterback Sonny Gibbs, who threw four touchdown passes; split end Darrell Elam, who scored one touchdown and carried four times for 135 yards; punter Jim Hollingsworth, who gained 147 yards with three punts, and Dave Casinelli, who scored twice — one with a dazzling 80-yard punt return.

Both teams now have a 4-6 record for the season.

Lamar Hunt Wants Lease On Stadium

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs' American Football League team, has offered to pay over $52 million for a 99-year lease on the proposed twin-stadium Jackson County sports complex.

Hunt would form an operating company to control the entire layout — including the football and baseball stadiums with their removable roof, parking, concessions, and a tract that could be developed for auto racing.

The company would provide office services, advertising, public relations, promotion and season ticket sales for both the Chiefs and the new American League baseball team Kansas City will have in 1969.

The organization would pay $750,000 a year for the original 40-year lease, a 20-year renewal option at $500,000 a year, a second renewal option at $375,000 a year, and a 19-year renewal option for $250,000 a year.

That would total $52,250,000 over the 99 years.

Jackson County voters approved a $43 million bond issue last June to build the sports complex, scheduled for competion in 1970.

Joe Harris Wins Close Decision

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gypsy Joe Harris still is unbeaten today, but you couldn't convince Irish Bobby Cassidy.

"I think I won and I don't think I'm alone in that," said the 23-year-old Cassidy. "There were a few other people who thought so. Even some of Gypsy Joe's fans came up and said I won."

It was a hard-fought fight in which the decision could have gone either way. One judge and the referee scored it 46-45 for Harris, while a second judge voted 47-43 for the Philadelphian. The Associated Press scored it a 44-44 draw.

This was Harris' first fight against a southpaw and his initial venture against a full-fledged middleweight. The No. 1 or No. 2 challenger for the welterweight title, depending on which poll you read, Harris had to rally in the final round to maintain his spotless record.

Ryan Injures Arm, Status Undecided

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns physician is waiting to make a decision on whether quarterback Frank Ryan will be able to play next Sunday.

Ryan suffered an injury to his right arm in the game with the New York Giants last Sunday. Dr. Vic Ippolito said Monday that no decision can be made until Wednesday or Thursday on Ryan's availability for the Sunday game against the Steelers in Pittsburgh.

His injury is similar to the one Gary Collins had in his leg a few weeks ago," Dr. Ippolito explained. "It is a deep muscle bruise and they are slow in healing."

Ryan had his arm in a sling when he visited Dr. Ippolito at the Shaker Medical Center Monday. Ice treatments were planned today and medication eventually will include warm packs and whirlpool bath treatment.

Ryan told Coach Blanton Collier he is confident he will be able to play against the Steelers.

Bobby Hull Continues High Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — The next goal Bobby Hull scores will make him the highest scoring left wing in National Hockey League history.

Chicago's blond bomber hit three times last week and zoomed into a tie for the NHL scoring lead with Montreal's Yvan Cournoyer. Each has 13 points—Hull on nine goals and four assists and Cournoyer on six goals and seven assists.

Hull, who has surpassed hockey's once impregnable 50-goal plateau in each of the last two seasons, now has 379 career goals and is tied with Ted Lindsay for the all-time lead among left wingers.

Three players—two of them from Boston's surprising Bruins—share third place behind Hull and Cournoyer with 12 points apiece. Fred Stanfield with 4-8-12 and John McKenzie 2-10-12 are the Bruins who are tied with Montreal's Jean Beliveau 7-5-12.

New Bargaining Talks Slated

Photoengravers' Strike Hits Cincinnati Papers

CINCINNATI (AP)—This city of 500,000 was without its daily newspapers today for the first time in this century as the result of a strike by the photoengravers' union.

The strike — starting shortly before the beginning of the advertising-rich Christmas season —affected the morning Cincinnati Enquirer and the afternoon Cincinnati Post & Times-Star, which also publishes the Kentucky Post.

Both newspapers told their nonstriking employes to report to work as usual today and another bargaining session between the photoengravers and the Cincinnati Newspaper Publishers Association was set for 10 a.m.

The last local daily newspaper to appear was the Monday Enquirer. The Post does not publish on Sundays.

About a hundred members of Local 130 of the Lithographers and Photoengravers International Union voted unanimously Monday evening to go on strike. Members of some other mechanical unions refused to cross the picket lines.

The dispute erupted after a bargaining session last Friday. The photoengravers, claiming that weekend work was overtime, refused to come to work and the newspapers have carried no pictures of current happenings since Saturday afternoon.

There were different reports about the reason why the talks with the photoengravers — who had been working without a contract since May 31—broke down.

The publishers' association issued a statement saying the "action by the photoengraver's union was totally unexpected because no notice of any kind had been given that such action was contemplated. Negotiations had been proceeding in good faith through last Friday when wage issues were discussed for the first time."

A union spokesman agreed that the union and publishers were far apart on money issues, but said one reason for the breakdown was management insistence on a clause that would forbid photoengravers to respect another union's picket lines. The publishers offered a $15-a-week raise spread over three years, he said.

The Enquirer tried to fill the city's news gap Monday night with a 40-minute broadcast over a local radio station in which various staffers read stories and editorials.

Some of the city's radio and television stations reportedly planned to expand their news coverage for the duration of the strike.

The Post & Times-Star has a daily circulation of about 245,000. The Enquirer has a daily circulation of about 200,000 with slightly over 300,000 on Sundays.

Press Backs Stokes For Cleveland Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Press has endorsed Carl B. Stokes, Negro Democrat mayoral candidate. The endorsement was in an editorial Monday which said "the voters can't go too far wrong either way in this election," adding that the choice is "not easy."

Jukebox Has 'Heartbeat'

CHICAGO (AP) — The "top ten" on the jukebox at Michael Reese Hospital consists of some real heartfelt sounds.

Push the buttons on the hospital's jukebox and out comes the "lubb-dup" rhythem of the human heartbeat rather than music.

Dr. Alfred F. Fishman, director of the Cardiovsascular Institute, dreamed up the idea to teach interns and residents how the human heart sounds in specific disease states and under normal conditions.

Business Man Kills Cleveland Assailant

CLEVELAND (AP)—An East Side business man shot a man to death Monday night after the man assaulted him, police said.

The dead man was identified as Thomas B. Womack of Willoughby.

Henry G. Fix, 49, owner of Fix cleaners, said he saw a car stop in his parking lot. Troubled by prowlers recently, Fix went to investigate and the man jumped from his car and punched Fix in the month. Fix said the man started firing a gun. Fix pulled a pistol from his pocket and shot the assailant, police said.

In its first three games, Wyoming's football team made 45 first downs to 41 for the opposition.

World Series Shares Smaller Than Usual

The St. Louis Cardinals—baseball variety, not football—and the Boston Red Sox got the word Monday from Commissioner William D. Eckert's office on their winning World Series shares.

The seven-game victory was worth a mere $8,314.81 to each Cardinal and $5,115.23 for each losing Boston Red Sox.

Those are pale figures compared with recent World Series payoffs. The winning share was the smallest since the New York Yankees collected $7,389.13 for beating Cincinnati in 1961. And it was the smallest losing share since the 1952 Brooklyn Dodgers picked up $4,200.64 apiece.

The limited capacity of Boston's Fenway Park, which holds only 35,188, caused the small payoffs. But both the Cardinals and Red Sox were generous with the shares.

St. Louis gave pitcher Jack Lamabe, acquired from the New York Mets in July, a full share and also voted the full amount to pitcher Jim Cosman, who spent most of the season in the minors.

Boston awarded half shares to pitchers Dennis Bennett and Galen Cisco, both of whom were cut early, and a half share to catcher Elston Howard, picked up from New York in August. Ken Harrelson, picked up from Kansas City in September, was voted a one-third share.

The Red Sox also voted $1,000 to the Jimmy Fund, a local charity, and the same amount to Ken Brett, a young left-hander brought up late in the season.

Second place was worth $1,484.70 to each member of the San Francisco Giants while the Chicago Cubs received $1,080.88 for finishing third, the Cincinnati Reds $428.51 apiece for fourth place and the Philadelphia Phillies $197.18 for fifth place.

Detroit and Minnesota tied for second in the American League, with each Tiger picking up $1,268.68 and each Twin $1,171.33.

The Twins shut ex-manager Sam Mele out of a cut but awarded a full share to Mrs. Walter Bond, widow of the outfielderhwho spent the early part of the year with Minnesota and died of leukemia during the season.

Fourth place paid $428.51 to the Chicago White Sox and the California Angels got $180.99 each for fifth.

Commission Allows Races At Wheeling

CHARLESTON (AP)—The West Virginia Racing Commission announced yesterday it has approved a 41 - day horse race meeting starting Jan. 1 for Wheeling Downs Track, closed since December 1962.

Commission Chairman Joseph P. Condry made the announcement when he and the other two commissioners appeared before the Board of Public Works to present the Racing Commission budget request for the next fiscal year.

The Wheeling track closed after fire destroyed much of the plant. The facilities have been rebuilt.

Condry said track owner James F. Edwards, also owner of Waterford Park, eventually plans to make Wheeling Downs a harness racing operation.

But the Jan. 1-Feb. 16 racing dates approved by the commission are for flat racing. Condry said a switch to harness racing would require legislative action to change the existing racing law.

Notre Dame Back To 10th

By The Associated Press

Ara Parseghian got his wish today, and Southern California got the No. 1 spot again in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Resting nine spots below the unbeaten Trojans, in 10th place, was Notre Dame, last year's national champion which had tumbled from the Top Ten by losing two of its first five games.

But the Irish defeated Michigan State 24-12 last Saturday and now are back among the elite, an achievement that makes Coach Parseghian happy.

Talking about the rankings after the Michigan State contest, Parseghian said:

"We have no conference championship to play for and no bowl game to shoot at. All we can do is get into the Top Ten rankings. That's our only goal, and the boys are doing a good job."

Southern California continues to do a good job, too. The Trojans won their seventh game by whipping Oregon 28-6 and were rewarded with all 43 first-place votes in the latest poll.

The Trojans' Los Angeles neighbor, UCLA, didn't play but had no trouble holding onto its No. 2 spot.

Colorado, one of the two Top Ten teams to lose last Saturday, skidded from third to ninth. Houston, the other loser, dropped from ninth to the also-ran group. Oklahoma State edged Colorado 10-7, and Mississippi nipped Houston 14-13.

The four teams behind Colorado last week each climbed one spot, but unbeaten Indiana made the biggest gain of all, rising from 10th to seventh after crushing Arizona 42-7 for its sixth victory.

Tennessee moved up to third, unbeaten North Carolina State to fourth, Georgia to fifth and Purdue to sixth. Wyoming remained No. 8.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1. Sou. Calif. (43)	430
2. UCLA	367
3. Tennessee	305
4. No. Carolina St.	288
5. Georgia	217
6. Purdue	206
7. Indiana	172
8. Wyoming	112
9. Colorado	86
10. Notre Dame	35

Nelsen Had Confidence In Making Comeback

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Knee-troubled quarterback Bill Nelsen of the Pittsburgh Steelers says he never feared regaining his job despite the brilliant fill-in performance of rookie Kent Nix.

"I've given it up before and gotten it back," said Nelsen, who came off the injured list Sunday and directed two fourth quarter touchdown drives that brought Pittsburgh a win over New Orleans.

"It isn't like starting all over again," he said. "You've been practicing all along and you know what's going on."

Nelsen, who limped off the field Sept. 24 with a torn muscle just above his left knee, came on in the final eight minutes of the game at the Sugar Bowl and completed five or six passes in the drives which covered 81 and 70 yards.

"Man, he was cool, cool, cool in the huddle," said Don Shy, who ran 33 yards for the winning touchdown with 1:52 left. "We were losing by all those points and he never even got excited. He ran the team like he knew all along we were going to win."

Nix, who came to the Steelers from Green Bay for a fourth draft choice, had risen to ninth in the National Football League passing statistics and set a Steeler record for completions in a game — 28 against Dallas. But he had his worst day Sunday—completing only eight of 20 passes for 68 yards and having four intercepted.

Charleston Smothers Ironmen 75-0

By The Associated Press

Continental Football League rushing leader Don Quillen scored three touchdowns and kicked an extra point as the Charleston Rockets routed Wheeling 75-0 in their second victory over the Ironmen this season.

Quillen carried the ball 31 times for 95 yards. He leads the team in scoring.

Other stars were quarterback Sonny Gibbs, who threw four touchdown passes; split end Darrell Elam, who scored one touchdown and carried four times for 135 yards; punter Jim Hollingsworth, who gained 147 yards with three punts, and Dave Casinelli, who scored twice — one with a dazzling 80-yard punt return.

Both teams now have a 4-6 record for the season.

Business Man Kills Cleveland Assailant

CLEVELAND (AP)—An East Side business man shot a man to death Monday night after the man assaulted him, police said.

The dead man was identified as Thomas B. Womack of Willoughby.

Henry G. Fix, 49, owner of Fix cleaners, said he saw a car stop in his parking lot. Troubled by prowlers recently, Fix went to investigate and the man jumped from his car and punched Fix in the month. Fix said the man started firing a gun. Fix pulled a pistol from his pocket and shot the assailant, police said.

In its first three games, Wyoming's football team made 45 first downs to 41 for the opposition.

Lamar Hunt Wants Lease On Stadium

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs' American Football League team, has offered to pay over $52 million for a 99-year lease on the proposed twin-stadium Jackson County sports complex.

Hunt would form an operating company to control the entire layout — including the football and baseball stadiums with their removable roof, parking, concessions, and a tract that could be developed for auto racing.

The company would provide office services, advertising, public relations, promotion and season ticket sales for both the Chiefs and the new American League baseball team Kansas City will have in 1969.

The organization would pay $750,000 a year for the original 40-year lease, a 20-year renewal option at $500,000 a year, a second renewal option at $375,000 a year, and a 19-year renewal option for $250,000 a year.

That would total $52,250,000 over the 99 years.

Jackson County voters approved a $43 million bond issue last June to build the sports complex, scheduled for competion in 1970.

Bobby Hull Continues High Scoring

Chicago's blond bomber hit three times last week and zoomed into a tie for the NHL scoring lead with Montreal's Yvan Cournoyer. Each has 13 points—Hull on nine goals and four assists and Cournoyer on six goals and seven assists.

Hull, who has surpassed hockey's once impregnable 50-goal plateau in each of the last two seasons, now has 379 career goals and is tied with Ted Lindsay for the all-time lead among left wingers.

Three players—two of them from Boston's surprising Bruins—share third place behind Hull and Cournoyer with 12 points apiece. Fred Stanfield with 4-8-12 and John McKenzie 2-10-12 are the Bruins who are tied with Montreal's Jean Beliveau 7-5-12.

The Canadiens' team of Gump Worsley and Rogatien Vachon share the goaltending lead with a combined average of 1.88.

Joe Harris Wins Close Decision

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gypsy Joe Harris still is unbeaten today, but you couldn't convince Irish Bobby Cassidy.

Harris won a close, unanimous 10-round decision over Cassidy, of New York, Monday night for his 22nd victory. Cassidy now is 27-7-2.

"I think I won and I don't think I'm alone in that," said the 23-year-old Cassidy. "There were a few other people who thought so. Even some of Gypsy Joe's fans came up and said I won."

It was a hard-fought fight in which the decision could have gone either way. One judge and the referee scored it 46-45 for Harris, while a second judge voted 47-43 for the Philadelphian. The Associated Press scored it a 44-44 draw.

This was Harris' first fight against a southpaw and his initial venture against a full-fledged middleweight. The No. 1 or No. 2 challenger for the welterweight title, depending on which poll you read, Harris had to rally in the final round to maintain his spotless record.

Ryan Injures Arm, Status Undecided

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns physician is waiting to make a decision on whether quarterback Frank Ryan will be able to play next Sunday.

Ryan suffered an injury to his right arm in the game with the New York Giants last Sunday. Dr. Vic Ippolito said Monday that no decision can be made until Wednesday or Thursday on Ryan's availability for the Sunday game against the Steelers in Pittsburgh.

His injury is similar to the one Gary Collins had in his leg a few weeks ago," Dr. Ippolito explained. "It is a deep muscle bruise and they are slow in healing."

Ryan had his arm in a sling when he visited Dr. Ippolito at the Shaker Medical Center Monday. Ice treatments were planned today and medication eventually will include warm packs and whirlpool bath treatment.

Ryan told Coach Blanton Collier he is confident he will be able to play against the Steelers.

New Bargaining Talks Slated

Photoengravers' Strike Hits Cincinnati Papers

CINCINNATI (AP)—This city of 500,000 was without its daily newspapers today for the first time in this century as the result of a strike by the photoengravers' union.

The strike — starting shortly before the beginning of the advertising-rich Christmas season —affected the morning Cincinnati Enquirer and the afternoon Cincinnati Post & Times-Star, which also publishes the Kentucky Post.

Both newspapers told their nonstriking employes to report to work as usual today and another bargaining session between the photoengravers and the Cincinnati Newspaper Publishers Association was set for 10 a.m.

The last local daily newspaper to appear was the Monday Enquirer. The Post does not publish on Sundays.

About a hundred members of Local 130 of the Lithographers and Photoengravers International Union voted unanimously Monday evening to go on strike. Members of some other mechanical unions refused to cross the picket lines.

The dispute erupted after a bargaining session last Friday. The photoengravers, claiming that weekend work was overtime, refused to come to work and the newspapers have carried no pictures of current happenings since Saturday afternoon.

There were different reports about the reason why the talks with the photoengravers — who had been working without a contract since May 31—broke down.

The publishers' association issued a statement saying the "action by the photoengraver's union was totally unexpected because no notice of any kind had been given that such action was contemplated. Negotiations had been proceeding in good faith through last Friday when wage issues were discussed for the first time."

A union spokesman agreed that the union and publishers were far apart on money issues, but said one reason for the breakdown was management insistence on a clause that would forbid photoengravers to respect another union's picket lines. The publishers offered a $15-a-week raise spread over three years, he said.

The Enquirer tried to fill the city's news gap Monday night with a 40-minute broadcast over a local radio station in which various staffers read stories and editorials.

Some of the city's radio and television stations reportedly planned to expand their news coverage for the duration of the strike.

The Post & Times-Star has a daily circulation of about 245,000. The Enquirer has a daily circulation of about 200,000 with slightly over 300,000 on Sundays.

Press Backs Stokes For Cleveland Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Press has endorsed Carl B. Stokes, Negro Democrat mayoral candidate. The endorsement was in an editorial Monday which said "the voters can't go too far wrong either way in this election," adding that the choice is "not easy."

Jukebox Has 'Heartbeat'

Push the buttons on the hospital's jukebox and out comes the "lubb-dup" rhythem of the human heartbeat rather than music.

Dr. Alfred F. Fishman, director of the Cardiovsascular Institute, dreamed up the idea to teach interns and residents how the human heart sounds in specific disease states and under normal conditions.

Cards Dispatched In Romney Area

One Man Booms Griffin For GOP President Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan is the first to admit it isn't much of a ground swell, that decidedly minor movement to draft him for the Republican presidential nomination. But it's the only one he has.

There's a man in East Detroit, the home territory of Michigan Gov. George Romney, dispatching postcards urging a Griffin draft in 1968. Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., got one of the cards and sent it along to Griffin with a note reminding his fellow first-term colleague:

"George isn't going to like this."

George Romney is on the verge of declaring himself a candidate for the White House nomination in 1968. And Griffin is a Romney man.

"George Romney has several problems these days, but this is certainly not one of them," Griffin said. "Whatever ground swell there is is still a long way underground."

Draft Griffin postcards began turning up in the senator's office six weeks ago. They were signed by Richard J. O'Halloran of East Detroit. The message:

"The people of Michigan should draft the Hon. Robert P. Griffin for the R. nomination for president. U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin has youth and experience and would be a winner"

The cards were relayed to Griffin by colleagues in the Senate and the House, where he formerly served. Members of Congress apparently formed a large part of the mailing list.

A Griffin aide called O'Halloran, and said the man told him he is 74, a retired industrial plant worker, and turned out the post card messages on a printing press in his basement.

"We don't even know this fellow personally," Griffin said.

The senator said he has not discussed the gentle draft with Romney. "I never took it seriously enough."

Griffin is serving his first elective term in the Senate after winning five terms in the House. He was elected to the Senate a year ago in a Michigan GOP triumph which helped establish Romney's credentials as a candidate who could help pull other Republicans to victory.

Martins Ferry Classes Due Despite Teachers' Boycott

By The Associated Press

School officials in the Ohio River community of Martins Ferry planned to have classes for the first time in a week today, even though boycotting teachers planned to stay off the job.

"I don't know where I'm going to get them, but we will try to man all schools Tuesday," said School Supt. John Pickens, who spent Monday trying to round up substitute teachers to conduct classes.

Members of the Martins Ferry Classroom Teachers Association — at odds with the school board in a pay dispute — have not worked since last Tuesday and the city's 3,000 students have not had classes since.

In Lancaster, 30 miles southeast of Columbus, school teachers involved in a pay dispute remained on the job.

The Lancaster School Board scheduled a meeting for 5:30 a.m. Tuesday in a move to secure funds that possibly could be used for raises for the city's 365 teachers.

Martins Ferry teachers picked up support Monday from the National Education Association (NEA). F. J. Johnson, an NEA official from Washington, D.C., met with Martins Ferry teachers and attacked the school board for "not living up to its agreement."

The 90 members of the teachers association are protesting the school board's refusal to authorize raises to teachers who participated in a similar walkout last spring.

The Lancaster School Board has offered $400-across-the board annual raises to the teachers. But the local teachers association claims the teachers are entitled to additional monty under the supplemental school bill approved by the legislature.

The board called the early morning meeting in efforts to adopt a resolution qualifying the city for the funds. The action, under law, must be taken before midnight Tuesday.

Bishop Slips Away As Young Chinese Reds Invade Office

MACAO (AP) — Several hundred young Chinese Communists smashed their way into the office of the Roman Catholic bishop of Macao Tuesday. A church spokesman said the bishop slipped away just ahead of the mob.

For more than two hours, the young Communists claimed they had taken Bishop Paulo Jose Tavares prisoner and were going to starve him unpil he signed an agreement permitting Communist political activity in Macao's Catholic schools, something the bishop has repeatedly declared he will not permit.

During all that time, a diocesan spokesman told newsmen, the bishop was in the cathedral next door to his office-residence building.

When the mob broke through the gates and surged into the residence, the bishop was in his back flower garden. He slipped out a back gate and into the cathedral, where he "waited and meditated" until the mob left more than two hours later, his spokesman said.

The mob posted guards at the entrance to the residence and refused to let any one in or out of the building. From time to time, members of the mob appeared on the steps of the building and shouted that they were holding the bishop and were going to starve him into submission.

Earlier the mob demonstrated outside St. Joseph's College, then broke into the campus and plastered the walls with anti-Catholic posters.

The Communists have been trying for four months to force the Catholics into allowing unrestricted Communist political activities in Catholic schools and colleges.

The bishop has said political activity of any kind pro- or anti-Communist or pro- or anti-Portuguese—will not be tolerated in the schools.

The Portuguese colonial government, which knuckled under to Communist pressure from within the colony and from Red China earlier this year, suspended two Catholic publications because they published the bishop's declaration without submitting it to government censorship.

Cards Dispatched In Romney Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan is the first to admit it isn't much of a ground swell, that decidedly minor movement to draft him for the Republican presidential nomination. But it's the only one he has.

There's a man in East Detroit, the home territory of Michigan Gov. George Romney, dispatching postcards urging a Griffin draft in 1968. Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., got one of the cards and sent it along to Griffin with a note reminding his fellow first-term colleague:

"George isn't going to like this."

George Romney is on the verge of declaring himself a candidate for the White House nomination in 1968. And Griffin is a Romney man.

"George Romney has several problems these days, but this is certainly not one of them," Griffin said. "Whatever ground swell there is is still a long way underground."

Draft Griffin postcards began turning up in the senator's office six weeks ago. They were signed by Richard J. O'Halloran of East Detroit. The message:

"The people of Michigan should draft the Hon. Robert P. Griffin for the R. nomination for president. U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin has youth and experience and would be a winner"

The cards were relayed to Griffin by colleagues in the Senate and the House, where he formerly served. Members of Congress apparently formed a large part of the mailing list.

A Griffin aide called O'Halloran, and said the man told him he is 74, a retired industrial plant worker, and turned out the post card messages on a printing press in his basement.

"We don't even know this fellow personally," Griffin said.

The senator said he has not discussed the gentle draft with Romney. "I never took it seriously enough."

Griffin is serving his first elective term in the Senate after winning five terms in the House. He was elected to the Senate a year ago in a Michigan GOP triumph which helped establish Romney's credentials as a candidate who could help pull other Republicans to victory.

Martins Ferry Classes Due Despite Teachers' Boycott

By The Associated Press

School officials in the Ohio River community of Martins Ferry planned to have classes for the first time in a week today, even though boycotting teachers planned to stay off the job.

"I don't know where I'm going to get them, but we will try to man all schools Tuesday," said School Supt. John Pickens, who spent Monday trying to round up substitute teachers to conduct classes.

Members of the Martins Ferry Classroom Teachers Association — at odds with the school board in a pay dispute — have not worked since last Tuesday and the city's 3,000 students have not had classes since.

In Lancaster, 30 miles southeast of Columbus, school teachers involved in a pay dispute remained on the job.

The Lancaster School Board scheduled a meeting for 5:30 a.m. Tuesday in a move to secure funds that possibly could be used for raises for the city's 365 teachers.

Martins Ferry teachers picked up support Monday from the National Education Association (NEA). F. J. Johnson, an NEA official from Washington, D.C., met with Martins Ferry teachers and attacked the school board for "not living up to its agreement."

The 90 members of the teachers association are protesting the school board's refusal to authorize raises to teachers who participated in a similar walkout last spring.

The Lancaster School Board has offered $400-across-the board annual raises to the teachers. But the local teachers association claims the teachers are entitled to additional monty under the supplemental school bill approved by the legislature.

The board called the early morning meeting in efforts to adopt a resolution qualifying the city for the funds. The action, under law, must be taken before midnight Tuesday.

Bishop Slips Away As Young Chinese Reds Invade Office

MACAO (AP) — Several hundred young Chinese Communists smashed their way into the office of the Roman Catholic bishop of Macao Tuesday. A church spokesman said the bishop slipped away just ahead of the mob.

For more than two hours, the young Communists claimed they had taken Bishop Paulo Jose Tavares prisoner and were going to starve him unoil he signed an agreement permitting Communist political activity in Macao's Catholic schools, something the bishop has repeatedly declared he will not permit.

During all that time, a diocesan spokesman told newsmen, the bishop was in the cathedral next door to his office-residence building.

When the mob broke through the gates and surged into the residence, the bishop was in his back flower garden. He slipped out a back gate and into the cathedral, where he "waited and meditated" until the mob left more than two hours later, his spokesman said.

The mob posted guards at the entrance to the residence and refused to let any one in or out of the building. From time to time, members of the mob appeared on the steps of the building and shouted that they were holding the bishop and were going to starve him into submission.

Earlier the mob demonstrated outside St. Joseph's College, then broke into the campus and plastered the walls with anti-Catholic posters.

The Communists have been trying for four months to force the Catholics into allowing unrestricted Communist political activities in Catholic schools and colleges.

The bishop has said political activity of any kind pro- or anti-Communist or pro- or anti-Portuguese—will not be tolerated in the schools.

The Portuguese colonial government, which knuckled under to Communist pressure from within the colony and from Red China earlier this year, suspended two Catholic publications because they published the bishop's declaration without submitting it to government censorship.

Junior Editors Quiz on WORDS

QUESTION: Who named the somersault?

ANSWER: A somersault, sometimes called somerset, is a movement performed by expert gymnasts or divers. You leap into the air, making a kind of package of your body and spin around so your heels turn over your head, and then land on your feet. Spins like this were executed by the Greeks and Romans, who established centers for physical training called gymnasiums — this is where our modern word gymnasium comes from. The Romans appear to have named the somersault; it comes from two Latin words, supra, meaning above, and saltus, a leap. Our picture of a backward somersault dive shows the beginning of such a leap; you can see how well the old Latin words described this graceful, exciting movement. Don't try such somersaults unless you are a trained gymnast or diver. You can have fun doing the simple somersault on the ground shown below. But even here, it is best to have something soft under your head and body.

In 1959, an ex-Marine from Texas, Lee Harvey Oswald, told newsmen in Moscow: "'I will never return to the United States..."

Ten years ago — The Little Rock, Ark., City Council ordered the arrest of local officers of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People for failure to turn over membership and financial records.

Five years ago — The White House said it had been decided to resume the air surveillance and naval blockade of Cuba during the dispute over Soviet missile bases.
